

Maison Du Bon Temps

Region: French Riviera (Cote D'Azur) Sleeps: 8

Overview

Part of a small community close to village amenities in the countryside of the Côte d'Azur region, Maison Du Bon Temps is an ideal laid-back family holiday home. It sits within charming outside space that offers areas for dining, relaxing and entertainment.

The interior of Maison Du Bon Temps is comfortable and suited to unwinding after days spent enjoying the local area and the coast's sandy beaches. Choose where you want to relax in the open-plan living/dining space. Snuggle up on the sofa to watch television as dinner cooks in the kitchen, or make the most of the quieter area and read by the fire on chilly evenings. There's even a bar for drinks before moving over to the dining table. Doors open straight out into the terrace where you'll find a lovely outdoor seating area.

Three bedrooms in combination with the double sofa bed in the living space mean that Maison Du Bon Temps can accommodate up to eight people. And there's plenty of room for everyone to get together outside - whether that's at the dining table, in the swimming pool, at the seating area or on the boules court. Those in the upper-floor bedroom also have their own balcony terrace for enjoying some private space.

The drive from the villa to the coast takes roughly 30 minutes, with some of the best beaches including those of the Les Issambres; a stretch that runs between Fréjus and Saint-Tropez. The town of Fréjus itself is full of history and culture, with ancient sites to discover and the Archaeological Museum being a fascinating place to spend time.

Sainte-Maxime and Saint-Tropez are both within an hour's drive of the villa, with Sainte-Maxime being slightly quieter and more chilled-out than lively Saint-Tropez. Sandy beaches, a range of water sports and fun parks are all sure to keep children happy and entertained.
