

Villa Caprice

Region: Sibenik Sleeps: 8

Overview

Under a kilometre from the sea, the spacious Villa Caprice is situated in Tribunj, a small Croatian town near Vodice. Lovely sea views are just part of the attraction of this 4-bedroom villa, which sits in pretty gardens with an impressive pool terrace.

Modern and light, Villa Caprice is the ideal holiday home for up to eight guests. There's a great flow between the interior and outdoor areas, with a magnificent pool and a covered dining terrace. There are sun loungers, a large parasol and a lawn area perfect for kids to play on.

Patio doors give you direct access to all the downstairs rooms. You have a lovely lounge area with seating and flatscreen TV, and an adjacent dining area with seating for eight. A stylish kitchen provides all you could need and continues the contemporary feel, but restaurants and cafés are within a short walk if you don't feel like cooking.

Over the four bedrooms, you have four double beds, and two additional single beds are available too. Some of the upstairs rooms have access to a terrace with seating. Three elegant bathrooms can also be found at Villa Caprice, along with an additional WC. Finally, you can look forward to soaking your cares away in the rooftop hot tub, which enjoys wonderful views over the town and towards the sea.

One of North Dalmatia's most popular resorts, Vodice is a convenient base for boat trips to nearby islands like Zlarin and Prvic, or for visits to the stunning Krka National Park. A pretty harbour and pebble beaches are part of its charm, and there are plenty of restaurants, churches and an aquarium to visit. The larger city Šibenik is only a 20-minute bus ride away, and other popular cities such as Split and Zadar are within reach too – both are around one hour's drive from Vodice.

Location & Local Information

On Croatia's Adriatic Coast, Vodice is around 15 minutes from the larger city of Šibenik. With its lovely harbour, beaches, taverns and good nightlife, it's a lovely place to spend some time. During the summer, Vodice Fest and the Vodice Jazz Festival bring music and fun to the area, and if you want to party into the night, the open-air club Hacienda is the place to be – it's one of the most famous clubs in Croatia.

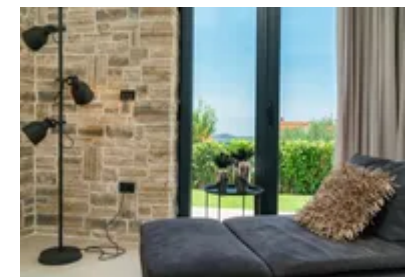

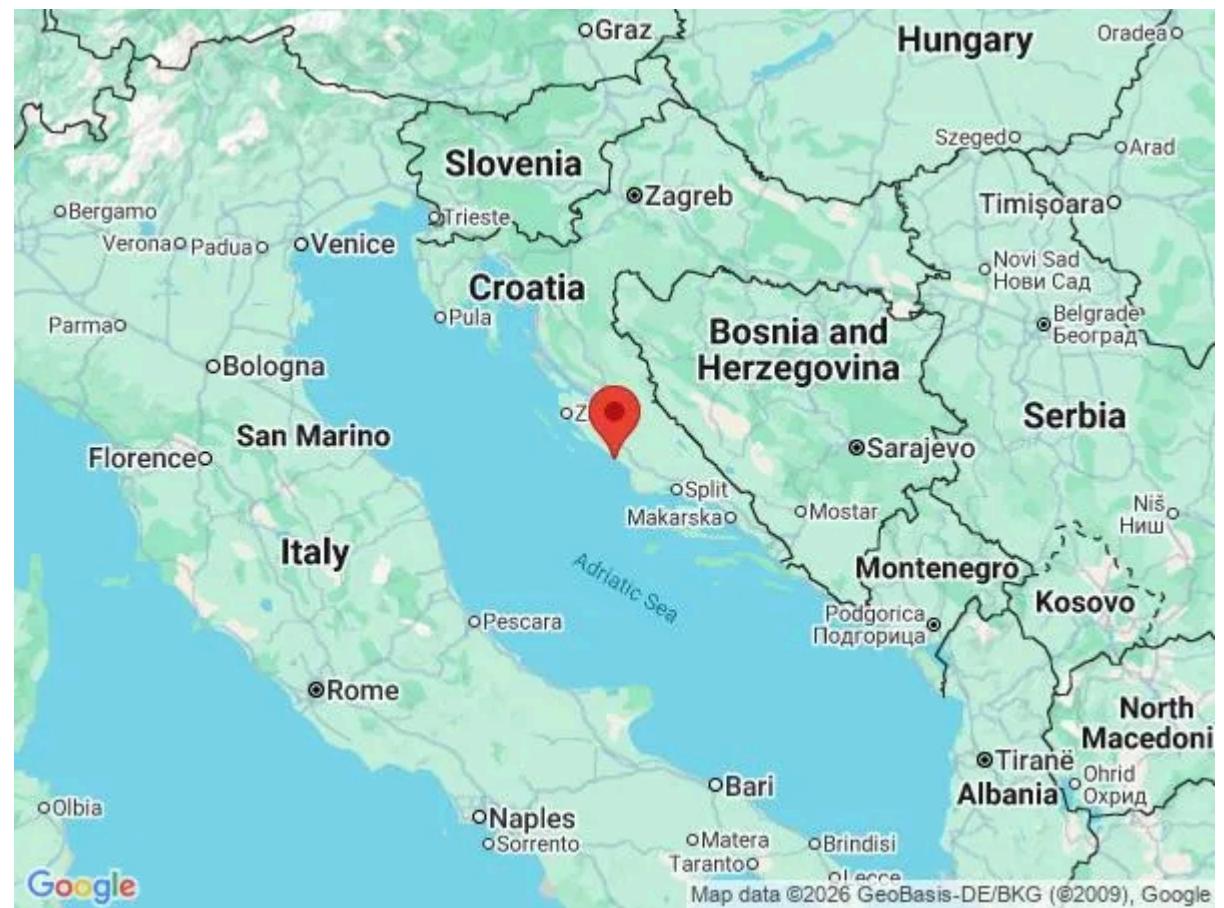

If the town's heritage is of more interest, you can discover churches such as the Church of the St Cross, a Baroque building dating back to 1746. The bell tower took some 20 years to build. Other local monuments like the Coric Tower, built from the prized stone of the island of Brač, are even older.

Island hopping is a popular activity in Vodice, as the town is well-positioned for visiting tranquil islands such as Prvic and Zlarin. Two national parks are also easy to reach from Vodice – the Kornati islands and the Krka National Park, famous for its magnificent waterfalls. You can take a boat trip through Krka National Park to enjoy some of its amazing scenery.

Dalmatia's main city, the impressive Šibenik, lies just 14km from Vodice. Its stunning medieval centre is a must-see, with the World Heritage Site, St James' Cathedral, at its heart. It is said to be the world's largest cathedral constructed entirely of stone and took more than 100 years to build. Look out for the frieze of 71 heads lining the rear of the building – the faces were based on local residents.

St Michael's Fortress is another notable sight that offers superb views over the Krk River and nearby islands. During summer, big-name festivals like Terraneo and the International Children's Festival bring visitors of all ages to Šibenik.

Head further east, and you can visit the magnificent city of Split. There's plenty to choose from with Diocletian's

Palace, Saint Domnius' Cathedral, and many more notable sights. Cultural gems include The Split Gallery of Fine Arts, the Archaeological Museum and the Mestrovic Gallery. Many public events also take place on the iconic Republic Square. If you want to feel at one with nature, you won't have to go too far – Marjan Forest Park – a large area of pine woods and botanical gardens, is just west of the city.
