

Cottage Liuvigild

Region: Galicia Sleeps: 6

Overview

This beachfront cottage is perfect for those who want a peaceful getaway in Galicia! With stunning ocean views from every bedroom and a rustic chic aesthetic, Cottage Liuvigild is entirely made from natural materials and has a really authentic feel to it. The exteriors are constructed completely from stone, while the interiors have exposed wooden beams and countryside-style furniture.

Outside, guests will find a private immersion pool, where they can enjoy the Spanish sunshine as they swim, surrounded by greenery. There are duck-egg blue deckchairs and a matching fence on one side. There is a barbecue where guests can rustle up a feast and an alfresco dining table.

Step inside the house to discover the living space, which has cosy sofas with lots of cushions, exposed stone walls and a traditional fireplace. It really is the perfect home away from home. This cottage would be lovely in the winter, where guests can take a bracing seaside walk and curl up with a hot chocolate in the evenings. The space is open-plan yet cosy and inviting.

There is a compact yet fully-equipped kitchen with a large fridge, oven and a coffee maker. Guests can also dine here around the table, which is like a kitchen island. There is a third dining space out on the terrace - a perfect spot to have some fresh fruit or a smoothie.

There are three charming bedrooms at this property. One is a suite with a shower in the room, while the other two rooms have a double bed and a single pull-out bed - perfect for the kids! All beds have crisp linen in white and grey with fluffy blankets and cushions. They have excellent views of the ocean and sweeping scenery. Polished wooden floors and dramatic wooden ceilings add to the traditional farmhouse style of the cottage.

One of the rooms has a window panel in the roof, ensuring lots of natural light, while another has a small writing desk. Curl up in an armchair by the window and enjoy the views, or lose yourself in a good book. In the suite, the single bed is around the corner in its area for extra privacy. There are good bathrooms here, with one room having a unique open-plan design with a vintage-style bathtub and shower in the room!

Location & Local Information

This cottage is situated near the town of Carballo, roughly 1 km from Razo Beach, with its endless golden sand and azure waves. The town is 10 km away, where you will find all the amenities you might require, like restaurants and shops for supplies. The area is part of the Costa de Morte of Galicia, which was once considered the end of the world for pilgrims on the famous Camino de Santiago trail. Make a pilgrimage of your own to Cabo Fisterra, where there is a lovely lighthouse and fantastic sunset views.

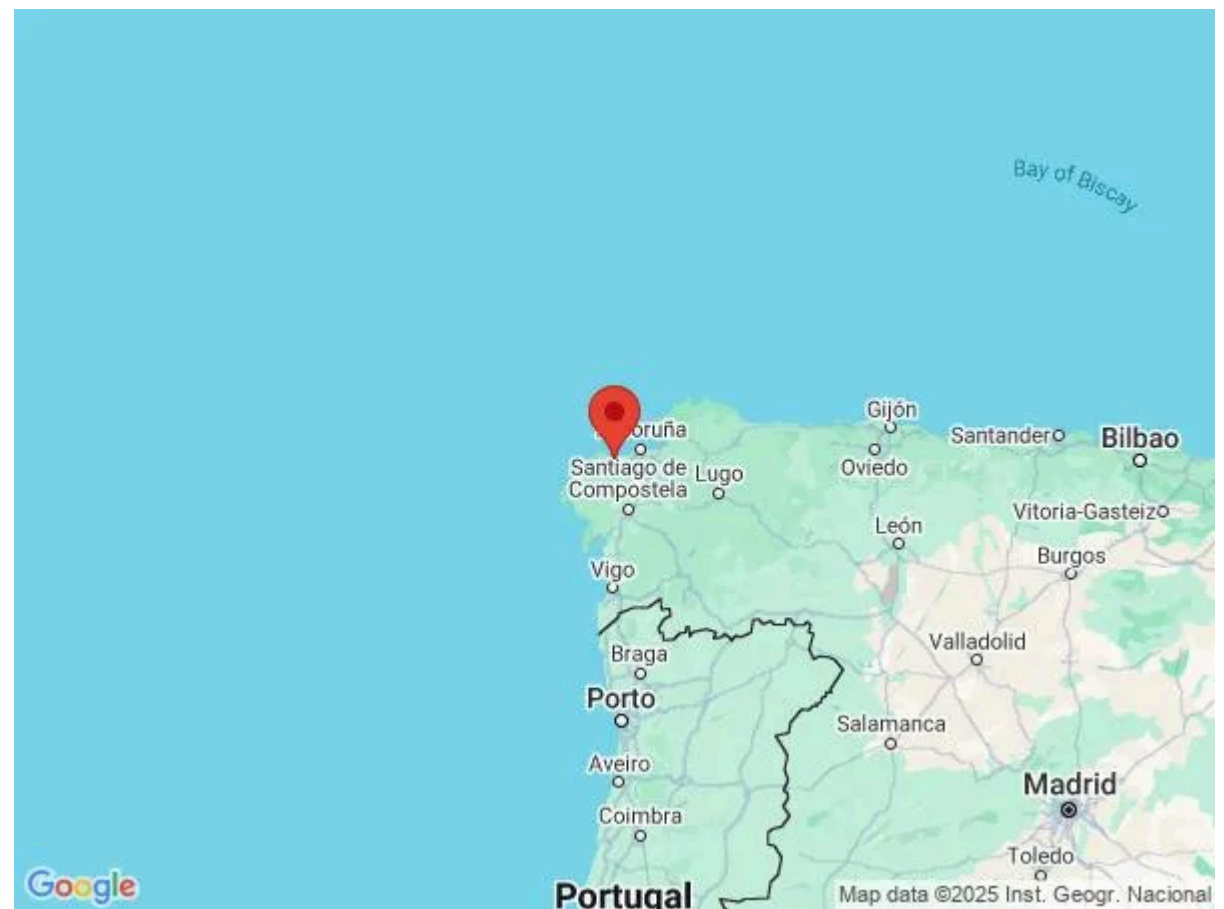

Razo Beach is one of the most beautiful in the Costa de Morte area - it has a relaxing atmosphere, sand dunes and excellent surf conditions. Here, there are two surf schools where you can learn how to ride the waves. Popular yet still with an unspoilt coastline, this beach is perfect for a chilled afternoon!

There are several peaceful nature trails nearby where you can stroll near the coast. Alternatively, for a nature fix, head to Refugio de Verdes, a lush park with waterfalls and ruins.

Take a day trip to A Coruña, known as the Crystal City, thanks to its many 'galerias' - enclosed glass balconies that feature stained glass. The picturesque square of Maria Pita is in the centre of town, with great examples of Galician architecture and a bustling atmosphere. A great museum to visit is the Domus, which focuses on the human body - with over 200 interactive exhibits about genetics, humanity and evolution.

On Wednesdays and Saturdays, there is a great flea market where you can rummage for treasure to take home as a souvenir. The Estrella Brewery is a must-see for beer aficionados - either wander around the eight interactive exhibits solo or take a guided tour. Learn about the history and composition, as well as enjoy five samples and a complimentary draught beer.

Another famous landmark nearby is the Hercules Lighthouse, which boasts an amazing panoramic view of the Costa de Morte. Perched atop a rock at the entrance of A Coruña Harbour, this is the only functioning Roman lighthouse. As the sea here is so rough, ships crossing the Atlantic Ocean relied on the lighthouses all along the Galician coast.

What we love

- The tastefully-designed villa is made entirely from wood and stone - it's such a charming space for a relaxing break in Galicia!
- Cottage Liuvigild is quirky and cute, and a great base to explore the Costa da Morte and the rest that Galicia has to offer!
- There is a suite with a double bed and a single pull-out bed, which is in its own space. Perfect for families with older children!
- Your furry friends are welcome to join you in this compact cottage and will love the outstanding landscapes of Galicia

What you should know...

- In some of the bedrooms, young children should take care near the steep staircase
- The bathrooms are not in their own separate areas - they are within the bedrooms!
- Please note that there is no air conditioning in this property, but the thick stone walls help to keep the cool air contained
- Please be aware that this property is only suitable for 5 adults, or 4 adults and 2 children
