

Cottage Liuvigild

Region: Galicia Sleeps: 6

Overview

Cottage Liuvigild offers a peaceful retreat on the Galician coast, with sweeping ocean views from every bedroom and a warm, characterful design. Constructed entirely from natural stone and timber, the interiors feature exposed beams, polished wooden floors and farmhouse-style furnishings that reflect the region's rural charm.

Ideal for all seasons, the open-plan living space includes a traditional fireplace, cosy sofas and exposed stone walls, making it inviting for both summer and winter escapes. The compact kitchen is fully equipped, with a central island for relaxed dining, while additional seating can be found on the terrace, perfect for breakfast in the sea air. Outdoors, a private immersion pool sits beside a duck-egg blue fence and sun loungers, surrounded by greenery. A barbecue and alfresco dining area complete the setting for leisurely meals.

Three thoughtfully designed bedrooms include a suite with an open-plan shower, and two further rooms with double beds and pull-out singles, ideal for families. Each room offers sea views, soft textiles and rustic elegance, with skylights, armchairs and writing desks adding character and comfort. One bathroom features a vintage-style bathtub and shower set within the bedroom for a touch of whimsy.

Location & Local Information

Located just one kilometre from Razo Beach, Cottage Liuvigild offers easy access to golden sands, rolling dunes and some of the best surf conditions in Galicia. The nearby town of Carballo, ten kilometres away, provides restaurants, shops and all essential amenities.

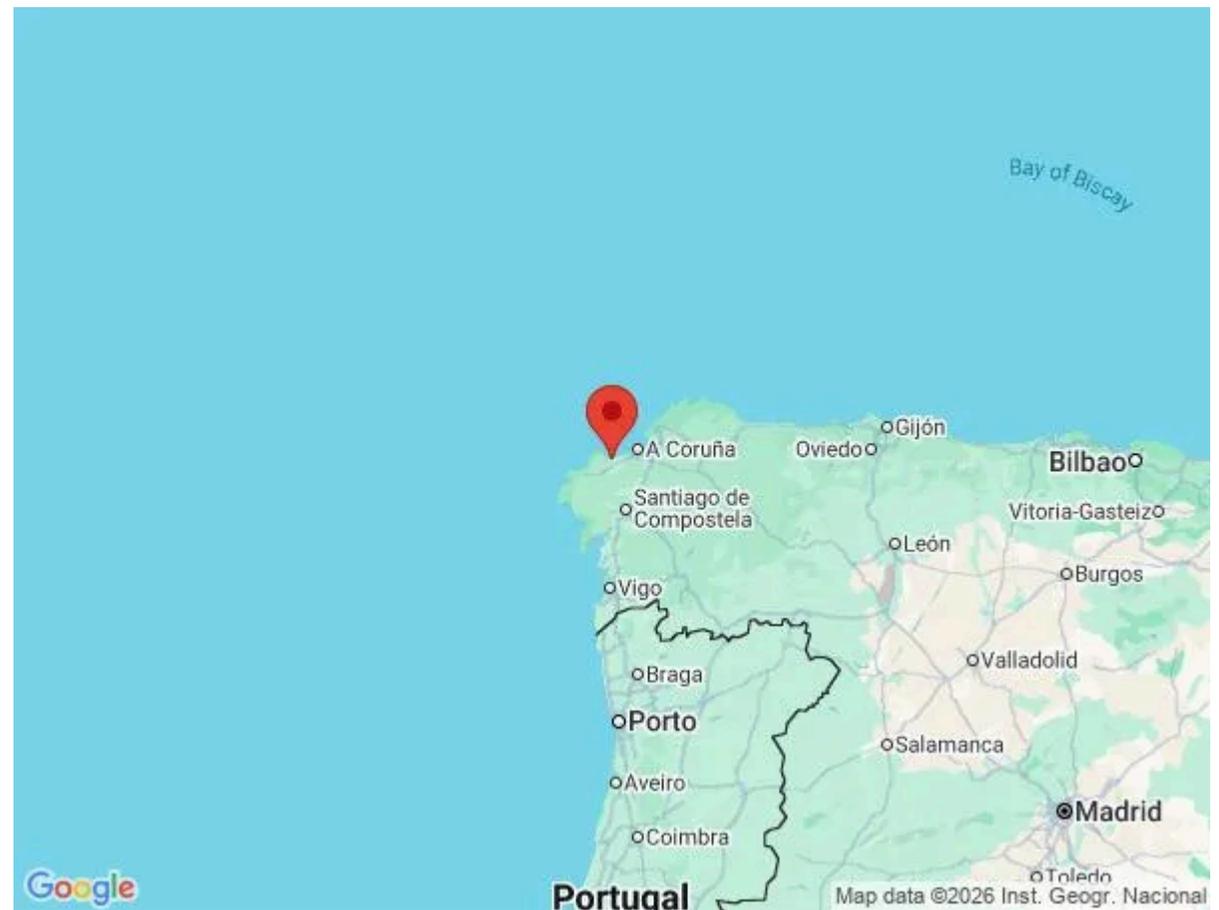

The cottage sits along the Costa de Morte, a dramatic stretch of Atlantic coastline steeped in maritime legend. Once believed to be the edge of the world by pilgrims on the Camino de Santiago, the region invites exploration. A visit to Cabo Fisterra rewards with striking sunsets and views from its iconic lighthouse.

Nature lovers will enjoy the serene walking trails along the coast and through verdant countryside, while Refugio de Verdes, a forested park with waterfalls and old mills, makes for a memorable day out. Razo Beach also features two surf schools, ideal for beginners and enthusiasts alike.

For a cultural excursion, A Coruña is within reach, famed for its glass-fronted galleries and lively Maria Pita Square. The city's Domus Museum offers a hands-on journey through human evolution, while the Estrella Brewery showcases Galicia's beer heritage with tastings and interactive exhibits. Do not miss the ancient Hercules Lighthouse, a still-functioning Roman structure offering sweeping views over the Atlantic.

What we love

- The tastefully-designed villa is made entirely from wood and stone - it's such a charming space for a relaxing break in Galicia!
- Cottage Liuvigild is quirky and cute, and a great base to explore the Costa da Morte and the rest that Galicia has to offer
- There is a suite with a double bed and a single pull-out bed, which is in its own space. Perfect for families with older children!
- Your furry friends are welcome to join you in this compact cottage and will love the outstanding landscapes of Galicia

What you should know...

- In some of the bedrooms, young children should take care near the steep staircase
- The bathrooms are not in their own separate areas - they are within the bedrooms!
- Please note that there is no air conditioning in this property, but the thick stone walls help to keep the cool air contained
- Please be aware that this property is suitable for 5 adults, or 4 adults and 2 children
