Location & Local Information

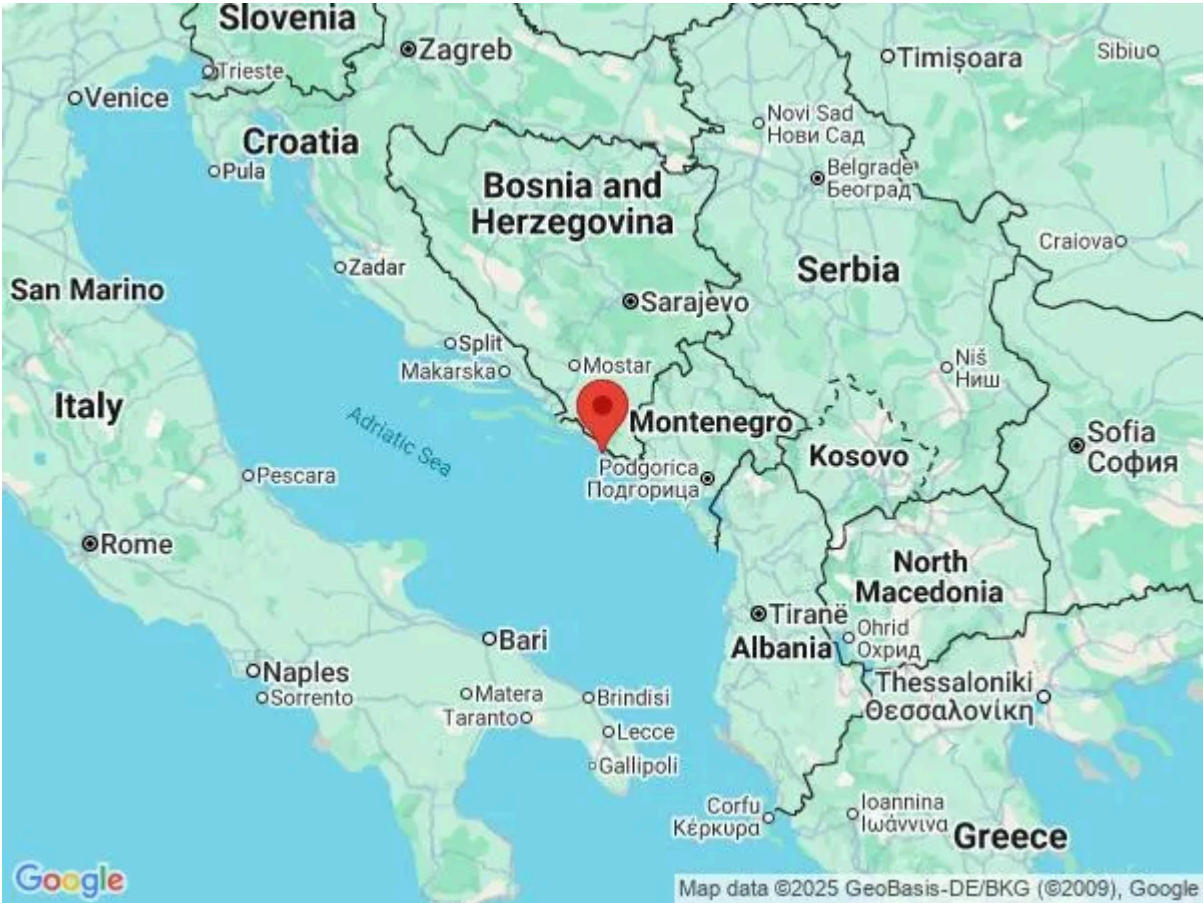

Pjesnik House is situated in the heart of ancient Dubrovnik, on the stunning Dubrovnik Riviera, overlooking the turquoise waters of the Adriatic and surrounded by lush green mountains. Mainly dating from the 16th century, the city is home to a maze of pretty terracotta-roofed houses and cobbled streets, with the broad stretch of the limestone-paved Stradun main street at its centre.

The pretty streets of Old Town Dubrovnik are enchanting. At the heart of the city is the Rector's Palace. This stunning Gothic-Renaissance building was home to the city's rectors until the early 19th century. Today, it houses the Cultural Historical Museum and has a large display of cultural items, from weapons to furniture. After exploring the museum, guests can head back out onto the Stradun, Dubrovnik's central pedestrianised street, for lunch or a coffee in one of the many restaurants and bars that line this attractive street, before taking time to browse the shops.

A walk around the city walls is an unmissable experience, offering spectacular views of the sea and the city rooftops. Stretching almost two kilometres, the walls are punctuated by six ancient fortresses. Walking tours are available, or you can take time to explore on your own.
