Location & Local Information

Nestled right into the hillside of the stunning north-eastern coast of Corfu, Villa Bouratika is a magnificent choice for holiday in paradise, with panoramic views across the Greek and Albanian coasts in the distance!

Nearby Nissaki, a quaint coastal village, is known for its small island tucked in the middle of its bay - with a jetty linking it to the mainland. On the islet itself you can find a few characterful tavernas, while in the stunning water around it you can enjoy all kinds of water sports - from swimming and snorkelling to water-skiing, jet-skiing and even e-foiling!

Corfu is teeming with UNESCO World Heritage Sites, including the Old Town of Corfu itself, which boasts a sublime mixture of Venetian and British architecture due to the many times it's been repaired since the Venetian rule prior to the 18th century. Meanwhile, Paleopolis, or ancient Corfu, was an important trading post but is now a fascinating set of ruins well worth a visit, alongside the Monument of Menecrates. Across the island you will find myriad delightfully maintained and restored palaces and squares alongside ancient ruins, each adding beautifully to the unfolding, fascinating tapestry of the Corfu landscape.

The foodies of the group will adore a stay in Corfu. Like so much of Greece, the culinary scene is famous for its rich flavours and concoctions of Mediterranean delights. Feta and olive oil are universal, while all kinds of fresh fish, fragrant herbs, in-season fruits and crunchy greens, all found in the back garden of the average Greek, await your enjoyment. And as for drinks, it's got to be Ouzo and Raki, two grape based alcoholic drinks. Be sure to try one or the other in your time on the island, both firm favourites of the locals. And definitely don't miss the local food. Try all the wonderful elements of the classic Greek cuisine while you're here, but particularly the local speciality of plums, which you will find in abundance across the island, and are included in foods ranging from sweets to pork! It's a whole holiday in itself to try the varied, rich flavours across the island so don't miss out!
