

Villa Amelinda

Region: Tuscany Sleeps: 12

Overview

Stay in characterful surroundings with beautiful contemporary features at the gorgeous Villa Amelinda, set amongst olive groves and vineyards close to the historic town of Cortona.

This pretty Tuscan abode offers six bedrooms over two houses, both of which have been wonderfully renovated using high-end materials with many original features from the cotto flooring and grand open fireplaces to exposed stone and sensitively restored wood beamed ceilings. In the main house traditionally arched windows allow light to flood into the ground floor, formerly the stables, with contemporary furnishings creating a stylish yet welcoming living space which leads seamlessly through to an elegant kitchen-diner. There are three bedrooms here, one on the ground floor, each with their own modern shower room and guests will find air-conditioning throughout.

The annexe is set just behind the main villa, also air-conditioned, where you will find three further en suite bedrooms and a lovely lounge upstairs alongside a kitchenette and fireplace. With ample living and sleeping spaces, Villa Amelinda makes a fine holiday home for an extended family trip or a getaway for a group of friends.

The gardens are glorious with terracotta pots of geraniums alongside English roses and fruit trees growing figs, apples, pears and of course olives. The swimming pool, set slightly raised from the main villa, is discreetly enclosed with its own inviting terrace, sun-loungers and parasols. Find a tranquil spot for your morning coffee, relax under the poolside gazebo and gather together to dine al-fresco on warm summer evenings under the pretty pergola.

There is so much of this area to explore – start off in idyllic

Cortona, just 10km away, with its authentic restaurants, medieval lanes, historic churches and fascinating Etruscan heritage. Visit the prestigious vineyards of Montepulciano, a hilltop town also known for its Renaissance palaces or hop on the train to the artistic city of Arezzo. Lake Trasimeno is also close by allowing you to take lakeside walks, enjoy watersports or visit some of the lake's islands by boat.

Whether admiring the southern Tuscan landscapes from your holiday home, pottering about in nearby Cortona or wandering further afield to Siena, Umbria or even Florence, this relaxing retreat offers you an authentic yet 21st century Italian experience in a wonderful region.

Location & Local Information

Set in southern Tuscany, just 10km south of the idyllic hilltop town of Cortona, Villa Amelinda enjoys a beautiful location surrounded by vineyards and olive groves.

Despite the country setting (via a 200m unpaved access road in a good condition), there is easy access to so much of southern Tuscany and beyond. You are close to the road which leads you across the border into Umbria, passing the top of Lake Trasimeno and continuing onwards to Perugia (45km). Alternatively, head north and you can be in Arezzo (40km) in a 45-minute drive or Siena (64km) within an hour.

Local restaurants and useful amenities including supermarkets can be found in nearby Terontola and Camucia, both on the outskirts of Cortona. Both have train stations too – from Camucia you can catch an express train to Arezzo taking under 20 minutes, head south to Perugia (35-45 minutes) or reach Florence in around 1hr 15 minutes.

Of course, it is wonderful being so close to Cortona (10km), the historic town made famous by Frances Mayes' 'Under the Tuscan Sun'. There are some stunning views from the historic walls that surround the town as well as charming medieval lanes and a splendid 13th century town hall in Piazza delle Repubblica. The cathedral is also impressive, as is the striking church of Santa Maria Nuova whilst history-lovers will appreciate the fascinating Museo dell'Accademia Etrusca. Also look out for festivities across the year, including Joust dell'Archidado, the town's palio that usually takes place in early June.

Another gem of southern Tuscany is Montepulciano (25km), famous for its rich Vino Nobile red wines and prestigious vineyards. Spend time in the exquisite town itself with its Renaissance palaces and glorious Valdichiana views.

A little further, Pienza (40km) is also a delightful village to visit, perhaps for lunch where you can try some of the regional specialities including the delicious pecorino cheese. Montefollonico (27km) is another great spot for a meal with its Michelin starred restaurant and other authentic osterie.

Heading across the border into Umbria, Lake Trasimeno is a 10-minute drive away. Castiglione del Lago (14km) is a good base to explore the lake – admire the views from the top of the castle or head to the shore for a picnic on one of the lakeside beaches. There is a sailing club as well as boat trips out to the islands and a scenic trail around part of the lake for mountain bikers and keen walkers.

There are plenty more enchanting villages of Umbria to explore just over an hour by car including world-famous Assisi as well as Orvieto, Todi and Spoleto.
