Location & Local Information

Villa Majia is located in the tiny village of Poljica Brig, famous for its donkey ranch, 'Ranc Dar Mar'. There is a grocery store and restaurant in the village, and the beach is just a stone's throw away - but it is the nearby city of Zadar, known for its cultural and historical sights, cosmopolitan restaurants and bars big draw for tourists visiting this area. The master of suspense, film director Alfred Hitchcock once reportedly described Zadar as showcasing the 'most beautiful sunsets in the world' - so we highly recommend coming to judge for yourself. The best spot to watch with a drink in hand is the Brazil bar, which sits alongside the famous Monument to the Sun, a 22-metre disk that soaks up the sun's rays during the day to dazzle visitors come nightfall with coloured light patterns.

Adjacent to this spectacular piece of interactive artwork is the Sea Organ, and an art installation made up of steps with underwater pipes that emit musical notes with the movement of the tide. If you're visiting Zadar, both of these attractions are a must-see that will delight visitors of all ages.

One of the country's best beaches, Saharun, is just a short ferry ride from Zadar. It is a sandy beach, unusual for Croatia, where you'll find mainly pebble beaches. Saharun is often compared to the Caribbean, thanks to its white sands and deepening turquoise shallows. The beach isn't busy outside of July and August, making it a firm favourite with holidaymakers.

Foodies will be thrilled to know that Zadar is crammed with excellent fish restaurants that favourably compare prices to those further down the coast. With lots of modern eatery options that feature outdoor terraces and spectacular views, you'll be able to enjoy popular dishes including John Dory fillet, Zadar truffles and gnocchi, olive oil-drenched seafood bruschetta, baked octopus and potatoes, cuttlefish stew, flaked sea bass and spider crab with black tagliatelle.
