An adjacent white family sized kitchen is fully-equipped with everything you will need to cook the local cuisine during your stay. If you are feeling flush, you can request a chef to come in and cook for you, now that really is a holiday treat.

The second bedroom is a twin room, with wardrobes, dressing table and en-suite bathrooms. Both bedrooms share a balcony that extends the width of the villa, with their own separate table and chairs. The second floor has two further fully furnished en-suite bedrooms, one with a double bed, the other with two twin beds, and a baby play pen. There is a large glass-surround balcony with a lounge seating area, the perfect place to enjoy a morning coffee or evening cocktail as the sun sets.

The pool terrace can be accessed through the floor to ceiling glass doors from the living area. The ladder entry swimming pool invites you to jump in for a few lengths before breakfast. Originally a Greek enclave called Kalamaki, Ottoman and Hellenic influences can be found in the winding streets of the old town, full of traditional white houses and home to a plethora of restaurants, cafes and bars, and souvenir shops full of goodies you'll want to take home. From the villa it is a short walk into town, where there's lots of shops, supermarkets, and banks, and a local Thursday market, that can provide all the provisions for a happy holiday. Many of Kalkan's best beach clubs are within walking distance of the villa, with bathing platforms, sea views, swimming pools, and waiter service, there's no need to leave your sun lounger all day. All aboard for a day of swimming and snorkelling in beautiful bays, enjoy a meal of local homecooked meze, take afternoon tea, and then sail back to harbour cocktail in hand to watch the sunset.

For the beach bunnies, Kalkan has its own pebble beach with easy access into the sea. What we love

- Villa Asli is great for a large family holiday, or friend's sharing. The configuration of a double and twin room on each floor is perfect for two families on holiday together
- The villa is situated within a very quiet area of Kalkan, and feels very private, yet it is within easy walking distance of everything you need for a fabulous fun holiday
- The contrasting colour scheme of an indoor neutral palette, and contrasting outdoor bright jewel colours, emphasises the two very different living spaces, feeling cool indoors, and fun outside!
- The town of Kalkan is a great destination, full of fabulous beach clubs, reputedly one hundred and fifty eateries, smart bars and cafes, yet still retains its original ambiance of a Turkish village with local people, best of all worlds

What you should know...

- Villa Asli is surrounded by other villas, which restricts the sea view, but it does give the it a lovely sense of privacy and seclusion
- The town of Kalkan is built on a hill and can be quite steep. Villa Asli is within walking distance of town, and on a straight road to the top of the village. For those with mobility issues local taxis are very inexpensive
