

Villa Desuso

Region: Galicia Sleeps: 10

Overview

This modern two-floor, five-bedroom villa is located in the Spanish region of Galicia and has a private pool and stunning views of the beach in the Corrubedo Dunes Natural Park, and is within just a 20-minute drive of the popular town of Porto do Son.

Located just a five-minute walk from the beach, you'll soak up the authentic Spanish vibe as soon as you walk through the door. The property's exterior is made up of natural stone with a terracotta rooftop in keeping with the landscape of the surrounding areas and the traditional architecture. A stone's throw from the property is the rugged coastline and the house is hugged by typical stone walls specific to the region.

Upon arrival, you'll make your way into the cosy living area with floor to ceiling windows and a breathtaking view of the ocean. The space features a TV and a fireplace, perfect for cosying up on cooler nights. In the daytime, open up the porch doors for a view of the sea and let the warm Spanish air flow through the house. The living area is linked to a spacious and tastefully decorated dining room with an abundance of sunlight streaming in through the large windows. Prepare your locally bought produce in the modern, fully equipped kitchen with touches of marble and stainless steel and be utterly soothed by the view. The bedrooms are all chicly decorated and have their own view of either the mountains or the sea.

Hedges surround the lush garden for full privacy and the blue-tiled heated pool is undoubtedly a highlight of the property. Sun worshippers will be in their element on the loungers and it's easy to see why guests spend hours here topping up their tans. You'll be surrounded by Spanish flora with rolling green hills in the distance, so your time outdoors is guaranteed to be peaceful and rejuvenating. If you're in the mood to cook outdoors, the barbecue is perfect for some outdoor entertaining, along with a pool table and terrace to use. With views this good and a beach so close, who needs to leave the villa!

Location & Local Information

Based in Rías Baixas, the house faces the Natural Park Dunas de Corrubedo and boasts views of the white sands and crystal clear waters of Seráns beach. The park is made up of almost 1000 hectares and has unique flora and fauna; dolphin sightings have even been reported! For those who want to get active, there are several easy hiking trails running through the park and visitors can also hire paddleboards. Birdwatchers will be in their element here, with September to April the best time to spot migratory species, but enthusiasts will have the chance to spot wildlife all year round. The park boasts virgin beaches, unspoiled wildlife, and famous shifting sand dunes, and the memories you'll have of strolling the boardwalk between the dunes and the ocean are ones you'll treasure forever.

The villa is 4km from the charming fishing village of Corrubedo. Walk along the rugged coastline admiring the orange, yellow and red traditional architecture, then finish the day by enjoying fresh seafood prepared Galician style or experience the Spanish tradition of tapas and wine in the evenings.

The region of Galicia is famous for its history, seafood, and wild beaches. It's particularly well known for its shellfish pulled straight from the sea: think king prawns, king scallops, mussels, crabs, and lobsters straight into signature Galician dishes like the Pulpo a la Feira (Octopus cooked with potatoes and seasoned with paprika), Arroz con Marisco (Galician paella) and Mariscada (Seafood platter). Wine is also a staple of the cuisine here and the region boasts beautiful wineries which produce some of the world's finest wines.

A thirty minute drive away is the city of Pontevedra, which prides itself on tradition and hospitality. It includes plenty of historic buildings, churches, monuments, attractive plazas, and a large shopping district. The old town begins to really thrive at night, with lively bars creating a vibrant atmosphere that continues well into the early hours.

What we love

- Nothing is better at Villa Desuso than taking in the sea views of the natural park with a glass of wine in hand
- A five-minute walk to the beach so you can head there easily at any time of day
- Neighbouring houses are few and far between, meaning you'll feel like you have the whole place to yourself

What you should know...

- The private pool is unfenced and while younger kiddies love to make a splash in there, they should stay supervised
- We recommend renting a car to reach this lovely property and to explore the surrounding region
