

La Roca de Frigiliana

Region: Costa del Sol Sleeps: 20

Overview

An expansive and inspiring villa located in the impeccable region of Costa del Sol, La Roca de Frigiliana combines luxury with traditional comforts, giving guests an incredible place to stay. Stretching across 2.5 acres of expertly manicured land, this villa has a plethora of secluded gardens and orchards. As such, guests can revel in the undeniable beauty of these truly natural spaces. La Roca de Frigiliana also includes multiple outdoor terraces that are equipped with high-quality seating areas. In turn, guests are encouraged to enjoy a variety of delicious meals and partake in a selection of exciting outdoor dining experiences.

This villa is extremely large and hosts a striking collection of unique living areas. The main living area is known as the TV lounge. This room stretches over 1,000 sq meters and comprises various seating areas. There are multiple seating arrangements, all using comfortable sofas and intriguing decor. This area also leads guests out to the spacious outdoor terrace area, further creating an abundance of natural light sources. This area also includes a broad dining table with space for up to 16 guests. Therefore, this living area is perfect for large families or for special events. The kitchen within La Roca de Frigiliana is an aspiring chef's dream. Using striking white cupboards and elegant granite countertops, guests can prepare an assortment of incredible meals with style and ease.

La Roca de Frigiliana hosts eight impeccable suites, giving each guest their very own space to relax and unwind. The first bedroom is the main suite, seen by the super king-sized bed in the centre of the room. Plus, there is also a separate bathroom and shower for guests to use whenever they please. The second bedroom contains a pair of single beds and has access to an additional en-suite bathroom. Thus, this room is perfect for children or for a couple who prefer to sleep separately. The remaining six bedrooms also contain super king-sized beds, allowing guests to gain an opulent and peaceful night's sleep during their stay in this remarkable villa. As an added touch, all bedrooms situated on the ground floor have doors leading straight into the indoor courtyard, meaning guests can jump straight out of bed and into the pool.

Location & Local Information

La Roca de Frigiliana is an impeccable villa located in Spain's Costa del Sol region, full of beautiful landscapes, lush beaches, delicious food, and warm residents. Close to this gorgeous villa is the unique village of Frigiliana, one of Spain's pueblos blancos, or 'white villages', famous for their whitewashed houses, red-tiled roofs, and charming alleyways for visitors to explore. During the end of August, this village holds the fantastic 'Festival of Three Cultures', a 4-day event that honours the region's historical co-existence of Christian, Muslim, and Jewish traditions. Take a tour around the village, enjoy the delicious tapas and wine, and revel in the festivities! For a more relaxing day out, head on down to the town of Nerja and soak up the sun on the gorgeous Burriana beach. Nerja is known for its excellent nightlife and boasts impressive caves where visitors can take a tour; if you are visiting in the summer months, you can even enjoy live music held in the outdoor auditorium as part of the Nerja Caves Music Festival!

If you are looking to explore the local history of this area, Atarazanas Market is a perfect way to do so. This bustling market can be found just over an hour away from the centre of Costa del Sol. The market is held in an awe-inspiring iron and glass building, sporting a very large stained-glass window at the very top of the exterior. Inside, the market is teeming with local merchants, all of which offer a diverse range of native produce. This market focuses a lot on local food options, making this an ideal tourist attraction for budding foodies.

Costa del Sol is also known for its enchanting landscapes, capturing the hearts and minds of many. The El Torcal Natural Park is a hidden gem within the larger parts of Malaga, making it suitable for guests who are looking to find the true heart of this delightful region. As you enter the park, you will be blown away by the various mountains that lie ahead. These mountains also host a variety of trails for guests to follow in order to explore the structures in more depth. At the very top of these mountains is a large spread of land that is home to various rare plants and a selection of unique oak trees. El Torcal Natural Park is just over an hour away from the centre of Costa del Sol.

Wineries are very popular within the region of Costa del Sol and allow tourists to gain more insight into the mystical world of European winemaking. The Dona Felisa Winery is just over 1 hour and 15 minutes away from the centre of Costa del Sol and provides a wide range of immersive tours. During their wine tasting tour, guests will have the chance to taste three exceptional wines as well as a selection of authentic tapas. These tours occur from Monday to Sunday and last for around 30 minutes each. It should be mentioned that tickets cost €25 per person and guests should be aged 16 and over to take part.
