

Villa Montanes Alto

Region: Costa Tropical Sleeps: 6

Overview

Perched on a hillside to provide incredible views of the coast and vast ocean beyond, Villa Montanes Alto is a shining gem of a property in Almuñecar, Costa Tropical. The villa, split between the main house and secondary living space down some steps, is built in the traditional white wall and terracotta roof style of the area.

The living space is spacious and airy in the area, facing the included TV. Watch some shows using the Apple TV in your downtime, connect to the Wi-Fi to talk to friends back home, or simply use the space to socialise with your group.

Villa Montanes Alto's bedrooms are split between the main house and the second living space, down a few steps halfway between the main house and the pool. The main house contains two double bedrooms, both having doors that lead directly onto the terrace. Here there are also two shower rooms. The separate living space has two single beds, storage space and a bathroom, perfect for anyone seeking added privacy.

The kitchen is fully equipped with everything one would need to create delicious meals, snacks or simply a nice cup of tea. It features not only a stove, oven, and microwave but also a coffee maker and kettle. You are truly spoilt for the choice of dining areas at Villa Montanes Alto. In the kitchen, you will find the primary dining area, and through to the sunroom, you will find another, where large windows and French doors let in lots of natural light. Meals can also be enjoyed fully al-fresco by making use of the outdoor dining table just outside the doors on the patio and sipping wine as you look out across the ocean.

Outside, there are seating areas for socialising in the fresh air or taking in the incredible view with a morning coffee.

On the lowest level, there are two sets of outdoor furniture, one in the warm sunlight and one in a shaded area for escaping the direct sun. Next to this shaded seating, you will also find an outdoor kitchen so you can grab a drink or snack without needing to head back to the house.

Down the steps, guests will come to the incredible outdoor private pool for their own use. With stepped entry, the cool water will be a hit with everyone as it provides relief from the warm sun and a chance to swim without having to leave the property. There are also a number of sun loungers lining the pool, so you can let the sun naturally dry you off after your dip. On colder days, or if you fancy a night-time swim, the pool can be heated via solar panels to ensure a lovely experience.

- The views from Villa Montanes Alto are seriously incredible, and it's just a short-drive down to the coast!

What you should know...
