Location & Local Information

Comporta is teeming with a selection of prized tourist attractions, making it one of Portugal's most popular holiday destinations. This region is also commended for its premium array of flawless beaches, such as Praia do Carvalhal, which can be found around 15 minutes away. Here, guests can experience a plethora of soft golden sand and sapphire blue water, making it a perfect place to visit if you are looking to enjoy a bit of peace and quiet. Once you have truly enjoyed everything that this landmark has to offer, guests are encouraged to take a stroll into the local town. This is where you will discover a selection of admirable bars and restaurants, each with its own character and style. Therefore, guests are free to soak up the native atmosphere before returning back to the beach to relax some more.

The Roman Ruins of Troia are one of the most prominent landmarks in the entirety of Comporta and can even be found on the UNESCO World Heritage Tentative List. This excavation site is filled with authentic artefacts and structures such as traditional baths, a mausoleum, as well as a necropolis. Thus, guests will be able to take a closer look at how this small town managed to thrive during the events of the Roman Empire. An archaic fish-salting facility can also be found on-site, allowing guests to see one of the largest remaining structures from the Roman era. The Roman Ruins of Troia are based just over 20 minutes away from the centre of the region.

If you are looking to see whether fate is on your side, a trip to Troia Casino is a real treat. This establishment showcases a pristine array of game tables and slot machines, giving guests a range of fun activities to test out for themselves. For those who are unable to gamble, there is also a wealth of immense cabaret shows on offer. Thus, guests can indulge in a collection of truly amazing shows during their time at this coveted attraction. The Troia Casino is located inside the grandiose Troia Design Hotel, which is around 20 minutes away from the centre of Comporta.
