Location & Local Information

The quaint village of Gharb is set on the highest hill on the north-west part of Gozo, so you can expect the most scenic countryside views. Its character is distinctly rural and until very recently it was populated almost exclusively by people who worked the surrounding fields in this fertile area of Gozo.

Being one of Gozo's oldest villages, Gharb is steeped in history with archaeological excavations revealing the remains of Neolithic and Bronze Age settlements. Visitors can sit peacefully in Gharb's picturesque village square, watching the Gozitan world go by and admiring beautifully unique hand-carved stone balconies that adorn the village's oldest homes. Meanwhile, the history lovers among you can take a look in the Gharb Folklore Museum, an extremely interesting museum housing different memorabilia that narrate the Islands' rural history. In addition to this, travelling history fans shouldn't miss the megalithic temples at Ġgantija and the recently restored Il-Kastell fortress towering above the capital of Gozo, Victoria.

A short and pleasant walk from Sunset Serenity towards the coastal cliffs is the tiny chapel of St. Demetrius. The area around Gharb and St Demetrius' Chapel is delightful for walking and enjoying the countryside. For the adventurers among you and those eager to escape crowds, we recommend following the little road along the valley, meandering through the fertile Gozitan countryside before reaching the glimmering sea. Here you will see a dramatic natural rock 'window', just as special but far less visited than the iconic Azure Window at Dwejra.

For the adrenaline junkies, mountain biking, kayaking, horse riding and clifftop hiking are all opportunities for active visitors.

Before your stay on sunny Gozo draws to an end, you must visit the Ta' Dbiegi crafts village. Here, you can watch artists work their Gozo lace, glass blowing, filigree and so on, as well as buy some beautiful hand-made gifts to take back as a memoire.
