

Chalet Eolia

Region: 3 Valleys Sleeps: 10

Overview

Chalet Eolia brings together generous space, contemporary alpine style and high quality facilities in the heart of Courchevel Le Praz. Spread across five levels and served by a private lift, it offers a calm and comfortable base with everything guests need for a relaxed stay. The main living floor is bright and welcoming, centred around a modern fireplace and large windows that open onto a balcony and terrace. This open plan space includes a dining area, a breakfast corner and a fully equipped semi open kitchen, making it easy for everyone to gather after time on the mountain.

The chalet's wellness level is one of its standout features. Here guests can unwind in the indoor swimming pool, take time out in the sauna or enjoy a quiet cup of tea in the dedicated lounge. A cinema room provides another option for relaxing evenings. Five bedrooms are arranged across the lower and upper sleeping floors, all with their own private bathrooms. Two bedrooms sit on the ground floor of the property, offering easy access for multigenerational groups.

The location is ideal for enjoying the full Courchevel experience. The Le Praz gondola is only a short walk away, linking guests to the pistes and wider Three Valleys ski area, while the village centre is moments from the front door. In winter, guests have access to excellent skiing, ski schools, cross country tracks and snowshoeing routes. During the summer months, walking paths, mountain biking trails and paragliding opportunities are readily available, along with access to the region's lakes and high altitude viewpoints. Chalet Eolia delivers year round appeal with a strong mix of comfort, convenience and modern alpine style.

Location & Local Information

Chalet Eolia is set in the charming village of Courchevel Le Praz, a peaceful corner of the Three Valleys with easy access to the wider ski area. The chalet sits only a short walk from the village centre, where guests will find traditional restaurants, cafes and shops, along with the fast Le Praz gondola that links directly to higher Courchevel altitudes.

With the lift just a few minutes from the front door, it is straightforward to reach the pistes each morning, while the ski school and nursery slopes are close by for families and beginners. The area also offers cross country trails and scenic snowshoe routes through the forests that surround the village.

Le Praz is just as appealing in the summer months. The walking paths begin within moments of the chalet and range from gentle lakeside routes to high altitude viewpoints with sweeping mountain scenery. Cyclists will find both road climbs and off road trails, while paragliding and other outdoor activities are available throughout the valley. Thanks to its calm setting, pretty streets and excellent links to the wider region, Le Praz works well for guests who want a relaxed base with plenty of year round alpine experiences on the doorstep.

- We loved Chalet Eolia's amazing location - nothing was ever too far away!
- The indoor swimming pool and sauna create a proper private wellness space for quiet afternoons
- The mountain views from Chalet Eolia were some of the best I've ever seen. The three bedrooms on the first floor each open onto balconies with elevated mountain views.
- A lift services all levels makes moving around the chalet straightforward for every guest.

What you should know...

- Courchevel Le Praz is well known for its family-centric style, the perfect location for those looking to reconver after a day on the mountains, not wishing to be disturbed by the lively après of the higher-up resorts.
