Location & Local Information

Madeira Blanca is situated just a few minutes away from the centre of Ribeira Brava, ensuring that guests can explore the vivacious nuances of this area without taking up too much of their relaxation time. If you wish to experience the true nature of this area, you must visit the lively Ribeira Brava Market. This market was completely renovated in the 1990s and now offers a diverse array of local dining establishments. Thus, guests are encouraged to delve into a wealth of local delicacies during their time here. Guests can also pick up a few souvenirs to show off back home, such as artisan bags, clothes, and jewellery. In turn, this is an incredible attraction to visit if you are eager to interact with the amicable locals and experience the wonders of the region from a more intimate perspective. The Ribeira Brava market can be found around 10 minutes away from the villa.

The Madeira Ethnographic Museum is a prized tourist attraction that is based just under 10 minutes away from Madeira Blanca. This museum focuses on the prime commodities that have helped to spur the region into a prosperous economic boom throughout the course of its history. As such, this establishment is operated into a collection of distinct areas known as Productive Activities, Transport, Domestic Units, and Traditional Trade. Guests are encouraged to explore this establishment in full, deepening their understanding of how this area managed to uphold such a dynamic agricultural industry as well as its keen relationship to sugar cane.

If you wish to learn more about the region's rich and far-reaching history, a trip to Solar dos Heredia is a must-do activity. This looming fort was first constructed in the late 18th century and has become a truly pivotal landmark due to its wide variety of traditional Baroque motifs. Despite its extensive legacy, this monument is now regarded as Ribeira Brava's town hall, allowing guests to uncover more about the area's past and present. Guests are free to examine this landmark in full, ensuring that they can capture the life and soul of this bustling area. Solar dos Heredia is located just over 15 minutes away from the villa.
