

Villa Annabelle

Region: Tuscany   Sleeps: 18

Overview

This grand Italian villa with the most beautiful landscaped gardens offers you the quintessential Tuscan experience near Lucca, perfectly located within easy reach of Pisa, Florence and even the Cinque Terre coast.

In a small village just a short drive from Lucca's enchanting medieval towers, Villa Annabelle is an exquisitely restored 18th century residence that welcomes 12 guests, set in two hectares of parkland. In very recent years it has been completely renovated by its new owners under the careful watch of some of Italy's finest architects - the result is truly incredible.

Across the main villa guests can luxuriate in the elegant interiors of the lounges, dining room and kitchen whilst six gorgeous bedrooms each feature their own marbled bathroom with robes, slippers and high-end toiletries. Indeed, you should expect the very best across this luxurious Tuscan abode with original Tessieri tiles and Murano chandeliers alongside rustic terracotta floors and a blend of antique and modern Italian furnishings.

For an additional six guests, a separate guesthouse within the estate can be added to your booking, subject to a supplement; a former farmhouse which is simpler in style to the decadent villa yet still exudes traditional Tuscan charm across its living room, kitchen and three en suite bedrooms.

Back to the main villa, discover the indoor swimming pool and wellness area with its spa and hammam – various treatments and massages can be arranged. Indeed, the villa owners take pride in the services they can offer such as in-house wine-tasting, vineyard tours and other personalised excursions. An Italian buffet breakfast is provided, as is daily housekeeping, whilst a chef can be booked to prepare delicious Tuscan feasts using the very best local ingredients, including fresh produce from Villa Annabelle's kitchen garden.

Make sure you try the limoncello, candied fruit and jams made from the lemons and kiwi fruit grown across the 2-hectare parkland, not to mention extra virgin olive oil and even home-made soap created from the villa's many olive trees. Every corner of the parkland offers a different experience from enjoying breakfast on the vast terrace and strolling by the fountains and cypress trees to making the most of the outdoor summer swimming pool or sitting by the lake. There is even a wedding garden where you can say your vows beneath the white marble gazebo, such a delightful spot for a picture-perfect wedding ceremony in Tuscany.

Villa Annabelle is a wonderful base for exploring this captivating region whether cycling around Lucca's medieval walls and admiring the exquisite beauty of its Renaissance palaces and pretty squares, or spending the day visiting the cities of Pisa and Florence. Idyllic hilltop villages and historic towns await including Collodi, Vinci, San Miniato and Montecatini Terme or drive just half an hour to soak up the ambience of Tuscany's coast at Viareggio and Forte dei Marmi.

The most romantic of souls should venture a little further to the Golfo dei Poeti following the footsteps of Shelley and Byron or head to the extraordinary landscapes of the Cinque Terre, now classified as a UNESCO World Heritage site, before returning to the magnificence of your historic Tuscan home.

Location & Local Information

Villa Annabelle is set in a small Tuscan village just outside the beautiful town of Lucca. With views of the surrounding hills, the village features a couple of restaurants as well as a beautiful and historic church.

Here you are just 8km from the heart of historic Lucca, one of Tuscany's true gems with its medieval walls, enchanting lanes, pretty squares, Renaissance architecture and impressive towers. Hiring bikes and cycling the city walls is a must – stop off for a picnic beneath the shady trees or let kids find space to play as you take in the gorgeous views.

Of course, the more famous tourist destinations of Pisa (17km) and Florence (84km) are also easily reached by car or train and the villa's concierge can arrange private tailor-made itineraries. Other excursions that can be organised include vineyard visits, wine and culinary tours, truffle hunting, golf, tennis and horse-riding as well as e-bike and Vespa or Fiat 500 rental.

Away from the main tourist sites, spend time exploring the charming Tuscan village of Collodi (23km), home to the Pinocchio Park for youngsters, or visit the birthplace of Leonardo da Vinci near Florence in Vinci (48km). The spa town of Montecatini Terme (35km) is lovely day out – take the old funicular up to the old village above the town for spectacular views.

Another great advantage of this part of northern Tuscany is that you are close to the coast with the vibrant summer seaside resorts of Viareggio and Forte dei Marmi around half an hour away, great for watersport enthusiasts as well as beach lovers.

Even further north is the wonderful Ligurian coastline from the romantic villages and little bays dotted along the Golfo dei Poeti to the magnificent scenery of the Cinque Terre National Park, nowadays classified as a UNESCO World heritage site.
