The resort combines luxury living with natural beauty, while the nearby town of Essaouira enchants visitors with its windswept beaches, thrilling watersports, and vibrant cultural scene. Known as the "Wind City of Africa" due to the steady Alizée breeze, Essaouira is a paradise for kite surfers, windsurfers, and beach lovers. Its UNESCO-listed Medina, with whitewashed walls, blue shutters, and bustling souks, offers a relaxed, car-free shopping experience, where art galleries, boutiques, and cafés line palm-shaded streets. Visitors can stroll along the historic 18th-century ramparts, take in panoramic ocean views, and spot filming locations from Game of Thrones and Orson Welles' Othello.

Down by the harbour, the town's fishing heritage comes alive with colourful boats, daily fish auctions, and open-air restaurants grilling the day's catch. The beaches stretch for miles, ideal for camel rides, walks, or sand sports, while nearby Diabat and Cap Sim offer dunes, ruins, and breathtaking coastal scenery. Every June, Essaouira hosts the Gnaoua World Music Festival, a three-day celebration of African rhythm and spirituality that transforms the town into a vibrant hub of music, art, and dance.
