Location & Local Information

The beachfront Villa Anghiari is nestled on the hillside along with three other villas in the peaceful, upmarket neighbourhood of Plai Laem. It is only a twenty-minute drive from the airport, so you will be relaxing in no time! There are panoramic views over to the tiny isle of Koh Som and out to Koh Phang Nga.
Koh Samui enjoys excellent beaches, colourful cultural attractions, delicious local food, idyllic islands and many special events. Temple Fairs are regularly held to recognize important days in the Buddhist calendar. The temple's grounds are transformed into mini-festivals with fairground rides and games for visitors to enjoy.

Koh Samui's gilded and serene Big Buddha sitting at the top of a ceremonious staircase at Wat Phra Yai, the mummified monks at Wat Khunaram, the captivating Wat Khao Hua Jook temple, Hin Lat Waterfall, the Secret Buddha Garden, Fisherman's Village, Bophut and the incredible rock formations of Hin Ta and Hin Yai are all within effortless reach of the villa. The Wat Teepankorn temple is located on a mountain-top near Lamai and can be reached by taking an off-road tour. The towering Buddha statue and panoramic views at the top are fabulous. The Secret Buddha Garden sits atop the Tar Nim Waterfall peak and boasts majestic views and an impressive collection of statues. The gardens were created by Nim Thongsuk, an old Samui fruit farmer who erected statues and temples around his family's land and continued until his death at 91. Each statue has a fascinating story to tell.

Boat rides to the Ang Thong National Marine Park or to Koh Nang Yuan, picturesque islands with large sandbars and live coral, are trendy. You can hike, snorkel, kayak or dive around the Ang Thong and discover the incredible scenic beauty of the islands. You may enjoy sightings of dusky leaf monkeys, long-tailed macaques, leopard cats, wild boar and otters, alongside flocks of exotic birds and rainbow shoals of fish. Another popular excursion is to Koh Phangan, Thailand's fifth-largest island, known for its raucous half-moon and full-moon parties. The island is unspoilt with idyllic, long, white-sanded beaches, a hilly, lush, tropical jungle interior and incredible dive sites.

Party people will want to head to the neon strip of central Chewang, a five-minute drive south from the villa. Soi Green Mango is home to cheap drinks, loud music, racy go-go bars, and ladyboy shows. The 6km long Chaweng Beach boasts lively beach parties, water parks, mini golf, cocktail bars and restaurants. Cheweng is the busiest place on the island.

The golden sandy beach of Choeng Mon Beach and the endless sands of Bangrak Beach are also famous. You will find the trendy beach clubs of Chi, Tembo and The Prestige at Bangrak. Bangrak is peaceful, and you will find busy fishermen, people walking their dogs and those there to watch the beautiful sunsets.

The Fisherman's Village at Bophut should be noticed. Its rustic buildings are now home to trendy restaurants, boutiques, gift shops, coffee bars, art galleries and dive shops. Every Friday, the village becomes a lively Walking Street market, the perfect place to pick souvenirs and taste street food. It is the island's neon-flecked nerve centre for nightlife, shopping, massages and cute boho cafes.
