Location & Local Information

Perched on the fringes of Puerto del Carmen, Puerto Calero emerges as a beacon of maritime sophistication within the sprawling municipality of Yaiza, enveloping the scenic realm of Playa Blanca. Conceived by the visionary José Calero in 1983, the realisation of his dream materialised in 1989 with the inauguration of the Puerto Calero marina, a testament to four years of meticulous construction. Today, the marina boasts an impressive 450 berths, accommodating super yachts with a maximum length of 60 metres, making it a haven for some of the world's most luxurious vessels.

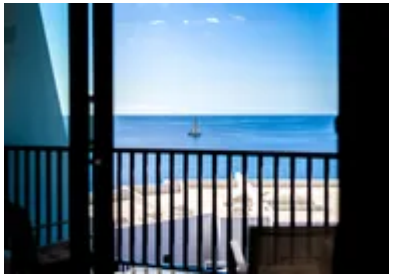

Beyond its maritime allure, Puerto Calero unfolds as a multifaceted destination. Along the waterfront, an enticing array of cafes, bars, and restaurants beckons, offering not just delectable culinary experiences but also a front-row seat to the captivating dance of boats and the symphony of ropes clinking against masts. The ambience is heightened by the school of fish swirling around the marina, eager to partake in any leftover bread from your leisurely lunch!

The area is also a treat for those who love to shop until they drop, featuring an exclusive selection of designer boutiques. From the timeless elegance of Hugo Boss to the sporty chic of Lacoste, and the refined allure of Armani, Helly Hansen, and DKNY, this enclave caters to those with discerning tastes and a penchant for luxury.

But the delights of Puerto Calero extend beyond shopping and dining. Leisure enthusiasts can indulge in a myriad of activities, from exhilarating sea fishing ventures to sailing or even embarking on a subaquatic odyssey in a submarine. The allure of Puerto Calero lies not only in its panoramic ocean and marina views but in the seamless fusion of maritime grandeur, upscale retail therapy, and a plethora of leisure pursuits that collectively paint a portrait of this coastal haven as a holistic and indulgent retreat.
