

Casa Fidelio View

Region: Umbria Sleeps: 8

Overview

Sitting inside the ancient walls of Spello town, Casa Fidelio View offers an atmospheric place to stay with unrivalled views over the surrounding towns and rolling hills. Here, you will have an authentic day-to-day life experience in a small Italian town.

Set over three floors, this home from the 1600s is packed with charm and character. Inside, you will find the original cobble and terracotta floors, open fireplaces, vaulted and beamed ceilings and shuttered windows. Everywhere you look, you will see period features which make the home feel cosy and welcoming.

Due to the property's age, the layout is unique; the home has two entrances, which means it can be split into two apartments if you would prefer. If you enter the house from the ground floor, you will find a workspace, a large living room with two sofa beds and a well-equipped kitchen. Winding through from the kitchen, there is a lovely patio with a dining space that offers fantastic views. On the first floor, there is another living area: an open-plan room with a kitchen, dining table, and sofa; this is a great friendly space where you can gather together. One of the home's bedrooms is on this floor, while the large double room is on the second-floor mezzanine level. The home can sleep eight guests when utilising the comfy sofa beds.

As well as the abundant historic features, the house is filled with everything the modern family would need. Casa Fidelio View has been fully renovated and offers Wi-Fi, air conditioning, Smart TVs, contemporary kitchens and three bathrooms.

Guests of the home will feel truly welcomed by the owners, who strive to provide everything to make your trip even more relaxing. Welcome baskets brimming with local produce, kitchens laden with breakfast products, and workspaces with desks and chargers await you so you can travel light. If you would like to book extra services such as a private chef or laundry, this can also be arranged for you.

Though the villa is within the town walls, it even boasts a rare garden! Outdoors, the pretty terrace has an al-fresco dining area which overlooks the surrounding countryside and towards Assisi.

When you wish to explore the local area, it could be challenging, as the house is located in Spello, which is regarded as one of Italy's most beautiful towns. On your doorstep, you have a maze of picturesque, winding streets packed with shops, eateries, and historic buildings. Museums, medieval churches and various fantastic events can be discovered here in Spello. The town is also an excellent base for entering the undulating Umbrian countryside and visiting other towns and cities like Assisi and Perugia.

Location & Local Information

With cobbled streets filled with floral displays, which wind around into pretty piazzas, Casa Fidelio View is a beautiful base for those wishing to spend their holiday in one of Umbria's most picturesque towns.

If you are searching for somewhere to stay during your trip to Umbria, the town of Spello is hard to beat. Sitting on a hilltop which looks down over the green hills and the little villages in the surrounding area, the town is rated as one of Italy's most beautiful. The villa sits within the ancient walls which enclose the historic centre, meaning you only need to walk a few paces to discover a wealth of amenities and attractions.

If you plan to take it slow on your break, you could spend the whole time in Spello and the immediate vicinity of the town. The centre has many restaurants, from rustic inns to fine dining eateries. The lively piazzas are also lined with cafes with tables pouring out into the fountain-filled streets and plenty of bars where you can sip a glass of local wine in the evening. There are also many shops here, including delis, craft shops and supermarkets, so you do not need to get in the car to pick up some groceries or souvenirs.

Aside from the great amenities, Spello also has a wealth of attractions for visitors. As the town started as a Roman settlement, there is plenty to see here! There are the original town walls and gates, Roman villas packed with staggering mosaics and ornate churches dotted around the town. You can also learn more about the town's history at the Civic Museum and the Palaeontology Museum. If you enjoy hearing stories of times gone by and searching for hidden gems in a town, why not book a walking tour with a knowledgeable guide?

If you plan to visit Spello in June, participate in a wonderful event called the Infiorata. This community festival focuses on flowers; you can see the streets filled with artworks made from thousands of flower petals. Visitors are also able to contribute by joining in with guest displays.

If you want to get out to the countryside, you do not have to travel far to find scenic walking trails, mountain biking routes and horseback riding expeditions through dense woodlands. Umbria is known as Italy's "Green Heart", so those with a car will have many opportunities to get out and explore some of the lush countryside. Wine tastings at family-run vineyards and beach days at Lake Trasimeno are also great options for day trips.

If you want to visit some of the other notable towns and cities in the area, you could drive to Assisi, just 11km away and Perugia, which is 31km away.
