

Villa Campaccio

Region: Tuscany Sleeps: 12

Overview

On a hilltop surrounded by verdant countryside, this stone Tuscan farmhouse offers captivating panoramic views over the fields and valleys which stretch as far as the eye can see. When staying here, you are perfectly placed for outdoor adventures and discovering the charms of local historic villages.

Set over three floors, this period residence exudes a warm and welcoming atmosphere with its traditional Italian decor. The interiors are adorned with delightful touches, from the pretty kitchen tiles and vases of vibrant florals to the cozy rugs that infuse character throughout. Original features, including open fireplaces, tiled floors, beamed ceilings, and rustic stone exteriors, further enhance the villa's authentic charm. These traditional features are paired effortlessly with modern amenities such as WI-FI, air conditioning and a washing machine to offer guests a perfect blend of old and new.

The lower ground floor boasts a small yet typically Tuscan kitchen with a dining area, along with two bedrooms—one furnished with a queen-sized bed and a single bed, and the other with a queen-sized bed. These bedrooms share two family bathrooms equipped with showers. Ascending to the ground floor, the heart of the home unfolds—a large open-plan space featuring an inviting fireplace, comfortable sofas, armchairs, and a formal dining area complemented by an antique table. Adjacent to this communal space is a lovely country-style kitchen with the original bread oven still intact, the kitchen is fully equipped for crafting meals with fresh, locally sourced produce. This floor also hosts a bedroom with a queen-sized bed, another room with a smaller double bed, and a bathroom with a shower.

Venturing to the first floor reveals the final room, an ideal space for a family with two children. This room boasts a queen-sized bed and two single beds, adorned with pretty pastel tones and exposed stone work. A spacious shower room completes this level.

Outdoors, guests can luxuriate in the vast green garden spread across multiple levels. The inviting private pool graces the lower level, while olive trees, al-fresco dining tables, and outdoor sofas on other levels beckon relaxation under the Tuscan sun.

Due to this fantastic location, you can spend your days walking, hiking and picnicking in the gorgeous Val Di Chiana. When you wish to dine out or do a spot of shopping, you have the villages of Camucia and Cortona both under 5km away! Further afield, cities such as Arezzo, Assisi and Perugia are within driving distance for day trips filled with art, culture and delicious foods.

Location & Local Information

Villa Campaccio is a wonderful base for a Tuscan holiday. This rural home offers a great range of experiences to guests due to the proximity to both wide open countryside and idyllic, historic villages. This beautiful home is a great place to stay for experiences authentic, Italian village life.

Though the home is rurally located, the closest villages beckon just a short distance away. Within walking distance, these small hamlets are adorned with charming restaurants and shops offering a taste of local flavours and artisanal craft shops.

For a more diverse selection of amenities both Camucia and Cortona lie within easy reach. Camucia offers an authentic Tuscan village ambiance, with local shops, bustling cafes, and produce markets allowing you to immerse yourself in the genuine lifestyle of the region and to pick up some groceries. The village is just 5km away. Closer still is Cortona, a cherished tourist destination which is under 3km away! This Etruscan village is perched 500 meters high and sits inside its original walls. The village is packed with ornate churches, defensive fortifications, and lively town squares. Just beyond the town centre, the intriguing Archaeological Park awaits, showcasing Roman and Etruscan ruins, monuments, and tombs, along with ever-changing exhibitions on local history.

There are many larger towns and cities you can visit in this area too. So many that you could visit one every day and never run out. One of these is the town of Anghiari which is 40km from the villa. This idyllic, inviting town stands as one of Tuscany's most beautiful walled towns. Steeped in medieval history, Anghiari thrived through the expertise of weavers, ceramicists, and skilled woodworkers, leaving behind a lasting legacy. Today, its streets are filled with art studios, antique shops, and artisanal craft stores in addition to a museum dedicated to local life. Enchanting town squares host a myriad of shops, cafes, and restaurants, surrounded by architectural treasures like the 7th-century Church of Santo Stefano and imposing palaces, including the Palazzo del Marzocco. This historic palace has now been transformed into a museum which can be toured by visitors.

Nature-lovers are also well-catered for in this stunning region. Just 11km away for example, you can drive out to Lake Trasimeno, a vast lake with calm water, sandy lake beaches and quaint lakeside towns. Whether spending leisurely days on the beaches or indulging in boat trips around the lake's islands and water sports, Lake Trasimeno provides a delightful escape. Nature enthusiasts can also head out on walks in the nearby Val di Chiana, a famous, picturesque valley with winding trails meandering through the Tuscan countryside.
