Surrounded by trees, this 4-bedroom villa is a haven unto itself. But that doesn't mean there isn't plenty to see and do in the area. Located just outside a medieval village (6-minute drive), where cobblestone streets and historic architecture is surrounded by vineyards, olive groves and oak forests. The village, littered with small squares where you can sit at a café listening to the gargle of fountains, also boasts supermarkets, shops, restaurants and historic sites.

To expand your options, the nearby town of Draguignan (10-minutes drive) offers a wider selection of supermarkets, restaurants, parks and boutiques. The stunning countryside beckons visitors to embark on scenic walks, cycling journeys and viticultural adventures among the area's countless wineries. Chateau du Deffends-Chateau des Platanes is only a twenty-minute walk from the villa, making it easy to stroll home after a day of wine tasting under the sun.

Of course, nothing quite beckons like the Mediterranean itself, which can be dived into from various glamorous resorts along the Côte d'Azur, including Saint-Maxime (45-minute drive), Fréjus (50-minute drive) and even the hotspot of Saint-Tropez (70-minute drive).

The town of Sainte-Maxime itself boasts supermarkets, restaurants, bars, dance clubs, a casino, a pleasant little port where sailboats sway back and forth in gentle breezes, and even a stunning golf course with panoramic views along the French Riviera.
