Overview

Located at the end of Allée des Cerisiers, Chalet Plantrey stands tall as a testament to luxury and alpine elegance, weaving dreams into reality. The chalet boasts a privileged location, offering breathtaking views of the surrounding mountains. With the possibility of skiing directly to and from the chalet, it seamlessly merges convenience with the thrill of the slopes. The village of Le Praz and its cable car to Courchevel 1850 is just a stone's throw away, ensuring both tranquillity and accessibility.

Ascending through four levels around a central staircase, Chalet Plantrey exudes chic designer architecture, marrying the warmth of wood with the solidity of stone. The interior, meticulously adorned in soft tones and comforting materials, comprises four ensuite bedrooms, including a spacious Master and a delightful children's sanctuary. The chalet accommodates a total of eight adults and four children, enveloping guests in a cocoon of luxury.

At the pinnacle of the chalet, the living space unfolds gracefully, revealing two lounge areas, an open-fitted kitchen, and a dining haven, all centred around a fireplace reminiscent of a brazier. Floor-to-ceiling bay windows generously shower the space with natural light and unveil a 360-degree panorama, leading to a terrace and a balcony.

After an exhilarating day on the slopes, return to the chalet for cosy moments by the fire, while the children enjoy the dedicated play area. A stay at Chalet Plantrey is not just about skiing; it's about being pampered. Wake up to a delectable breakfast served at your table or on the terrace, and let a diligent housekeeper ensure the chalet remains a haven of cleanliness and comfort every day.

As for amenities, Chalet Plantrey leaves no stone unturned, from shoe warmers to a wood fireplace, a garage to multimedia entertainment, and a well-equipped kitchen complete with fondue and raclette machines, ensuring that every guest experiences the pinnacle of alpine living.

Le Praz, the authentic village of Courchevel, surrounds the chalet with its charming streets, traditional chalets, and period farms that exude a timeless soul. Winter or summer, the village beckons with activities for everyone, from its picturesque lake to the ski jumping hill constructed for the Albertville Olympic Games in 1992.

In winter, Chalet Plantrey becomes a haven for ski enthusiasts. Its location allows for skiing directly to and from the chalet, and the proximity to the village of Le Praz and its cable car to Courchevel 1850 ensures easy access to the slopes. After an exhilarating day on the slopes, guests can return to the chalet for cozy moments by the fire, while children enjoy the play area. The chalet offers amenities like shoe warmers, a wood fireplace, and a well-equipped kitchen with fondue and raclette machines. The surrounding authentic village of Le Praz enhances the winter experience, with picturesque streets, traditional chalets, and activities ranging from exploring the village to enjoying the nearby ski jumping hill constructed for the 1992 Albertville Olympic Games.

Location & Local Information

Chalet Plantrey is located in the heart of tranquillity in Courchevel Le Praz. This alpine haven offers a serene escape just a leisurely 400 metres from the village centre. Imagine waking up to the whispering winds rustling through the forests of Courchevel, with the majestic peaks of Dent du Villard and Grand Bec standing sentinel.

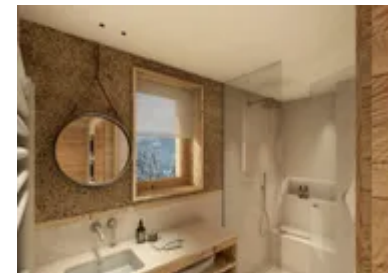

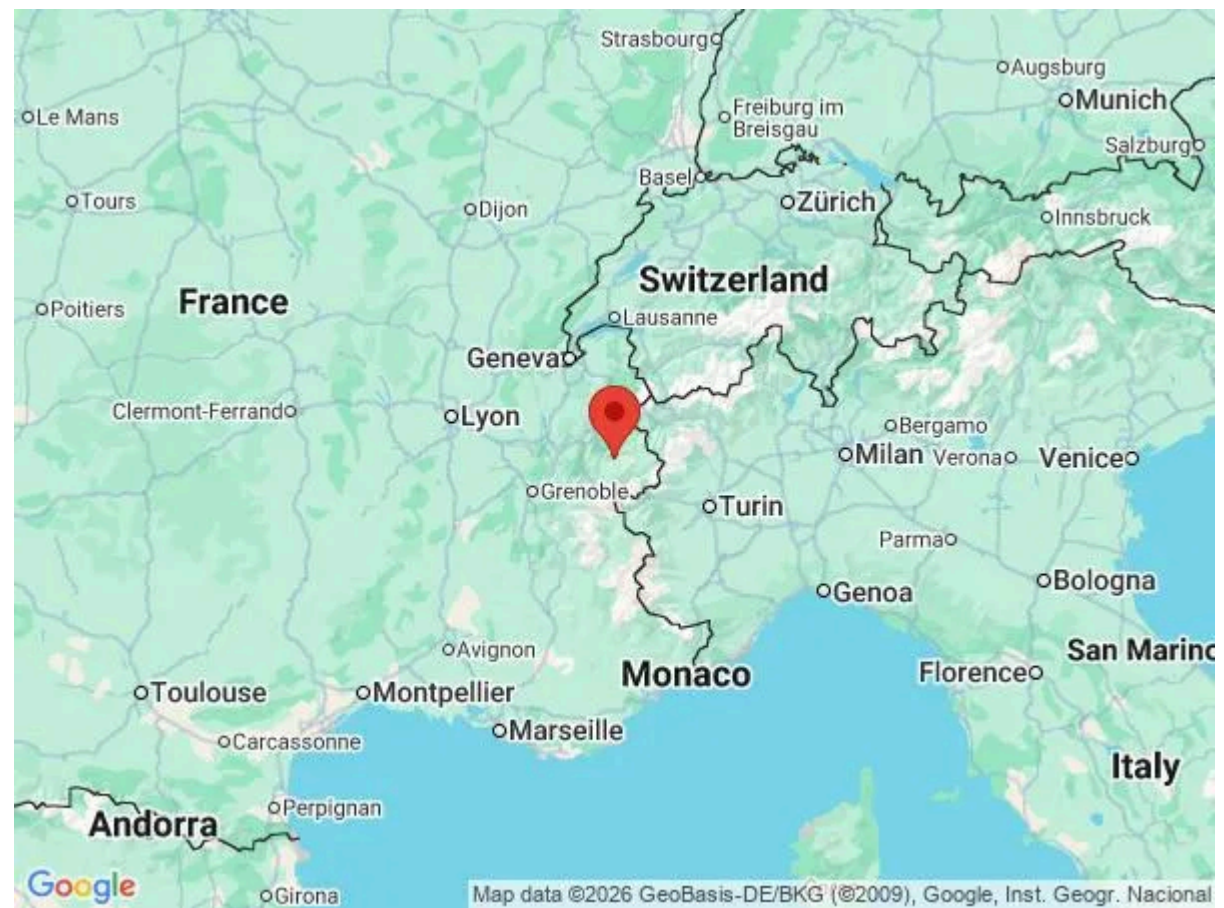

Perched at an altitude of 1,300 metres, Courchevel Le Praz unveils a discreet charm, far removed from the hustle and bustle. It proudly stands as a unique village, meticulously preserving the mountain spirit and embracing the rich Savoyard tradition. The village streets wind through chalets, promising a change of scenery at every turn.

For ski enthusiasts, the strategic positioning of Courchevel Le Praz opens up a winter wonderland. A mere 500 metres from the lifts, the closest track, Jean Blanc, beckons just steps away. The ski school is also conveniently nearby, ensuring that both beginners and seasoned skiers are well-catered to. Within a short distance, the Praz cable car effortlessly transports you to Courchevel 1850, the pinnacle of the resort, where an expansive network of slopes, the largest in the world, eagerly awaits.

Courchevel Le Praz is not just about skiing; it's a lively neighbourhood that comes alive during après-ski. The snow front buzzes with activity as skiers return to extend their moments of pleasure. And for a perfect conclusion to the day, indulge in the culinary delights of very good restaurants serving authentic Savoyard specialities, adding a savoury note to your alpine experience.

The Praz Olympic springboard, a relic from the 1992 Olympic Games, still graces this picturesque village. This unique installation, still in use, once hosted the Olympic ski jumping events, making it a piece of living history in the heart of Courchevel Le Praz.
