This location offers the perfect balance of tranquillity and convenience, with the bustling village centre just one and a half kilometres away.

In winter, guests benefit from quick access to the slopes via the nearby Télésiège des Perrières, which connects directly into the Portes du Soleil, one of the world's largest ski areas. The surrounding terrain caters to all skill levels, and ski schools, hire shops, and après-ski options are easily reached within a short drive or walk.

Come summer, Les Gets transforms into a hub of outdoor adventure, with scenic hiking and mountain biking trails starting from the village and beyond. Golf, paragliding, and lake swimming are also available nearby, offering plenty for active families and groups.

What we love

- Made from reclaimed wood, to a Swedish design, Chalet Flatons stands out from the crowd.
- With four inviting bedrooms and an open-plan living area, this modern home is ideal for a party of eight.
- A dedicated ski room with boot warmers keeps gear organised and ready for the next day..
- The amenities of Les Gets are just a short walk away or you can even take a shuttle bus if carrying your ski gear.

What you should know...

- The chalet features extensive natural wood finishes, which add warmth and character, but guests should take care, particularly with little ones as some surfaces may occasionally cause splinters.
- Heating is provided via a centralised system controlled externally, so while temperatures cannot be individually adjusted, the chalet remains at the pefect temperature during your stay regardless of the time of year
- The private garage offers secure parking, but the space is tight; skilled drivers will find it can accommodate a large vehicle such as a Range Rover, though careful manoeuvring is advised.
