

Hillside Farmhouse

Region: Heart Of England Sleeps: 8

Overview

Set deep in the Black Mountains, Hillside Farmhouse is a characterful 17th-century escape where weathered stone walls, oak beams and glowing wood burners offer a warm, grounded sense of place. Thoughtfully restored, the house blends centuries-old charm with relaxed modern living.

The heart of the home is the dining room, where a brick fireplace and generous oak table invite lingering mealtimes. The living room is made for cosy evenings, with soft sofas and far-reaching mountain views, while the snug provides a quiet corner for reading or games by the fire. A well-equipped kitchen and light-filled garden room bring ease to slow mornings, complete with a Belling range cooker and Nespresso machine.

Upstairs, four inviting bedrooms sleep eight, including a king-size en-suite master and a restful twin. Outside, oak-framed spaces extend the living area into the garden, with a hot tub, fishpond and a peaceful gazebo facing the Black Mountains.

Footpaths wind straight from the door towards Hatterall Hill or the nearby hamlet of Clodock, where a traditional pub awaits. Whether gathering with loved ones or simply enjoying the rhythms of the countryside, Hillside Farmhouse offers a place to reconnect, unwind and feel utterly at home.
