Location & Local Information

The area is enveloped by ancient olive groves, some of which have stood for over a century. It begins from the outskirts of Saint Mathew village, the largest in the region, tracing the island's west coast northward until it reaches Paramonas beach and concludes at Pentati village.

To the south, visitors can discover Lake Corission and Halikounas Beach, both integral parts of the Natura 2000 network. Additionally, there are numerous charming villages like Agios Gordis, Pelekas, Glyfada, and the renowned Paleokastritsa village with its captivating turquoise waters and sandy shores. Families can also enjoy organized beaches nearby, such as Prasoudi and Paramonas.

The location is conveniently just a 30-minute drive (25km) from Corfu City, where the island's airport and harbour are located. Beyond the practicalities, Corfu City itself is a destination of significance, enticing visitors with its historic streets, plethora of activities, and delightful island cuisine.
