Known for its charming old town with narrow, cobbled streets and whitewashed houses, Kalkan invites you to explore its vibrant local markets, boutique shops, and a mixture of cafes and restaurants. The town's renowned harbour provides stunning views and is the perfect starting point for a boat trip to the nearby pristine beaches and secluded coves.

For the more adventurous, Kalkan is surrounded by opportunities for water sports, including snorkelling, diving, and paddleboarding. Hiking enthusiasts can explore the nearby Lycian Way, a historic trail offering breathtaking panoramas of the rugged coastline. History buffs will appreciate visiting the ancient ruins of Patara and Xanthos, both under a thirty-minute drive away.

What we love

- We love the fabulous sea views from Villa Tarcin 3, especially from the infinity swimming pool!
- The modern interiors and fully equipped kitchen are perfect for relaxing and spending time together as a family.
- There is plenty of privacy, with each bedroom having its own en-suite bathroom and multiple seating areas around the villa.
- Distances into Kalkan are downhills from the villa but you may prefer a taxi back as the uphill route is quite steep

What you should know...

- We recommend hiring a car as there is so much to do in and around Kalkan. However, taxis are relatively inexpensive, and the owner can organise transfers.
- There is a lift in the villa.
- Please be careful when children play around the pool as there is no fence.
