Casa Lligat

Region: Costa Brava Sleeps: 20

Overview

On the outskirts of the charming town of Cadaqués along the Costa Brava sits the majestic Casa Lligat. This 10-bedroom villa is in a 5-acre private park surrounded by pine and olive trees and faces the Cap de Creus natural park. With its breath-taking sea views, outdoor spaces and spectacular infinity pool, this haven of tranquillity offers extreme privacy and has direct access to the sea.

Extending over 500m², Casa Lligat offers spacious living areas and can accommodate a maximum of 20 guests. Designed in 1962 by the well-known American architect Peter Harnden, the villa combines modernity, simplicity and high level comfort and refinement, with influences from both Californian style from the 1950's and rustic Mediterranean style. The property has a rich history: for nearly 20 years, Dali's personal manager, namely Captain Moore, lived in the house!

The one-storey villa perched on the rock high above the sea has two parts: the main house (4 bedrooms), and six exterior bedrooms with independent access, all connected with gorgeous Mediterranean patios and stone steps. The main house features an open-plan living/dining space with a sunken sofa area, fireplace, piano, and access to a terrace. A fully equipped kitchen with an island and bar seating opens to the interior patio. Outside, a heated infinity pool (please see Ts&Cs) can be found in its dedicated area with secure gates, providing peace of mind for children, and a pool house, gardens, multiple terraces and dining areas for 12-14 guests leave you spoilt for choice for places to spend your time at the villa. Stone steps lead straight down to the seafront, adding to the magical serene feel this villa exudes.

A short drive to the Far de Cap de Creus lighthouse provides breathtaking panoramic views of the Mediterranean and is an ideal spot for photography or a peaceful sunset stroll.

Cadaqués, just a 10-minute drive away, is a vibrant coastal town with narrow cobblestone streets, whitewashed buildings, and a rich artistic heritage. # What we love

- The setting of Casa Lligat is second to none, with its cliffside position and amazing seafront views that you can't get bored of!
- The outdoor areas of the villa are beautifully designed to create a relaxing environment whilst taking in your surroundings, whilst the inside is cosy and comfortable.
- The villa is close to several beaches and even has private direct access to the sea!
- Looking for some more space or want to be closer to the town? Check out the equally gorgeous Casa Passeig (https://www.oliverstravels.com/spain/costa-brava/casa-passeig/)!

What you should know...

- The villa and its grounds are set over several levels so there are lots of steps around, and this should be kept in mind for guests with reduced mobility and young children.
- The infinity pool is located in a separate area from the main house - it is fenced and gated, with a roller cover, however children should be supervised at all times.
- The steps down to the water should not be attempted by small children or those with reduced mobility, and it is recommended that only competent swimmers should swim from this point.
