

Mas Alpheratz

Region: Provence-Alpes Sleeps: 12

Overview

Away from the usual tourist trail, embrace the natural beauty of this magnificent stone house with stunning views of rolling Luberon hills beyond the lavender-filled gardens and swimming pool.

Enjoying an idyllic setting, Mas Alpheratz is the perfect getaway for guests seeking authentic Provençal charm alongside attractively furnished living spaces. The main living room is bathed with light thanks to its French windows and high wood-beamed ceiling whilst the state-of-the-art kitchen leads out to the south courtyard and east-facing dining terrace.

Sleeping up to 12 guests, each of the six bedrooms has its own bath or shower room. The ground floor is home to two inviting bedrooms (one with its own sitting room) and there are four further bedrooms upstairs. Guests can expect garden or countryside views, comfortable beds, high quality linen, plenty of towels and the added benefit of air-conditioning in five of the six bedrooms.

Enjoy your morning coffee on the outdoor lounge overlooking the fountain and lavender. There's boules, badminton, ping-pong and table football to keep all ages entertained alongside the swimming pool that can be heated on request. Spend long summer evenings on the east terrace with its al-fresco dining area and barbecue.

This is a remote and rural setting, yet you are just a 10-minute drive from an authentic Luberon village dating back to medieval times with its restaurants, cafes, bakery, butchers and small supermarket. The Thursday morning market is not to be missed as you join locals and stock up on delicious seasonal produce or head to the historic town Apt, only 19km by car, to experience its famous Saturday morning market, the largest in the Luberon.

Location & Local Information

Set in 100 acres of vast grounds, Mas Alpheratz is located in the rolling hills of the eastern Luberon, close to the Vaucluse and Alpes-de-Haute-Provence border. Away from Provence's usual tourist trail, make the most of the incredible hiking trails, cycling routes and charming Luberon villages.

It's around a 10-minute drive to Céreste-en-Luberon where you will find a boulangerie, butchers, pharmacy and small supermarket as well as a wonderful market on a Thursday morning. The village dates back to the 12th century and it's a delight to admire its medieval lanes, little fountains and old ramparts. Once part of the Domitian way linking trading routes between Italy and Spain, this is a popular destination for keen hikers with a variety of trails across the surrounding landscapes.

Saint-Martin-de-Castillon (10km) is another Luberon village not to be missed for its rural authenticity and glorious valley views. Meanwhile, Viens (10.5km) is a typically perched village with a wealth of charm. As you explore this part of the Luberon and beyond look out for rugged scenery, vines, forests and summer lavender fields. Further afield, lavender festivities take place in Sault (43km) and Valensole (47km) in the height of the summer.

Closer to home, Apt (19km) is famed for its lively Saturday market, the largest in the Luberon. The handsome town invites you to wander cobblestone streets lined with artisan shops and fragrant patisseries brimming with local produce. North of the town, visit the Colorado Provençal (25km), a stunning landscape of ochre cliffs and walking trails, perfect for nature lovers and photographers alike.

Heading east instead, Forcalquier (29km) enchants with its medieval allure. Climb to the citadel for panoramic views of the Luberon hills, or lose yourself in the town's charming squares and cafés. Don't miss the Monday morning market, a treasure trove of Provençal delights.
