Ballinacarrow House

Region: County Westmeath Sleeps: 14

Overview

Ballinacarrow House is a beautifully restored manor home in the heart of County Westmeath, offering a warm and inviting retreat for up to 14 guests. Once a derelict building, it has been transformed into a stunning holiday escape, blending rustic charm with modern comforts. Exposed wooden beams, a magnificent four-poster bed, and cosy interiors create a welcoming atmosphere, making it the perfect setting for extended families or groups of friends to relax and reconnect.

Set in the picturesque Irish midlands, Ballinacarrow House is surrounded by the legendary lakes of Irish folklore, offering breathtaking scenery and a wealth of outdoor activities. Explore nearby historical sites, charming towns, and quaint villages, or simply enjoy the tranquillity of the countryside. Whether you're looking for adventure or relaxation, this idyllic location provides the perfect base to experience the beauty and heritage of Ireland.

Designed for all seasons, Ballinacarrow House features spacious patios and a lawn, providing plenty of space for outdoor gatherings in warmer months. A small paddock leads down to the river, offering a pleasant spot for a stroll along the water's edge. When the weather turns cooler, the cosy living room with a log burner provides a warm and comfortable space to relax. With a blend of history, character, and modern comforts, this property offers a welcoming setting for a memorable stay.

What we love

- The cosy living room with a crackling fireplace is perfect for relaxing after a day of exploring.
- While the house has charming quirks like steep stairs, it features a ground-floor king bedroom and a wet room suited for those with mobility issues.
- A cot and high chair are available for guests traveling with little ones.

What you should know...

- Two of the king-sized bedrooms also feature single/day beds, suitable for young children.
- Guests have full access to the house, except for the office which is locked.
- Please ensure children are always supervised, especially near the riverbank or horses grazing in the fields. For safety, kindly avoid petting the horses and maintain a respectful distance.
- We recommend that guests have a car during their stay at Turlough House, as most local amenities are a short drive away.
