Location & Local Information

Set high above Florence’s historic centre, the hilltop town of Fiesole offers a peaceful contrast to the city’s buzz yet remains just a short drive or bus ride from the Duomo. Long favoured by artists, writers, and those seeking a slower pace, Fiesole is known for its panoramic views, ancient Roman ruins, and tree-lined piazzas. Wander through quiet lanes framed by olive groves and cypress trees, or explore the town’s archaeological site and 14th-century monastery to taste its layered history.

Fiesole’s elevated position means cooler evenings and clearer skies, making it a refreshing retreat during Florence’s hotter months. Local restaurants serve Tuscan classics with a view, while artisan shops and markets lend an authentic, village-like feel. Whether you’re returning from a day of sightseeing or planning a slower, more scenic stay, this hillside setting offers the best of both worlds: tranquillity above, with the cultural heartbeat of Florence at your feet.

What we love

- This spacious fifth-floor apartment offers sweeping views over Florence from a large private terrace
- It is well suited to families or small groups and features two bedrooms, two bathrooms, and a generous living area
- Located in a peaceful residential area above the city, it provides a calm base within easy reach of Florence's main attractions

What you should know...

- The panoramic terrace is a standout feature, but families with younger children should always supervise them when outdoors
- While the apartment is on the fifth floor, a lift is available. However, guests with limited mobility should note that some steps may still exist within the building or apartment
- There is no dedicated parking space. Guests arriving by car should check local parking options nearby or consider public transport alternatives
