Location & Local Information

The Villa is located in the captivating region of Corinthia located in the northeastern part of the Peloponnese peninsula in Greece. This area is a blend of natural beauty, ancient history, and modern-day charm. The region is named after the ancient city of Corinth, one of the most influential city-states in Greece. Corinthia's geographical features are diverse, with lush mountains, fertile plains, and a lengthy coastline along the Gulf of Corinth, which offers breathtaking views and a serene atmosphere. The area is also known for its mild Mediterranean climate, making it a pleasant destination year-round.

One of the region's highlights is the city of Corinth itself, which boasts the ancient ruins of the Temple of Apollo and the Acropolis of Corinth, with remnants of its once-great civilization still standing. The famous Corinth Canal, connecting the Aegean Sea to the Ionian Sea, is another iconic landmark that has been crucial for trade and maritime travel for centuries. The canal, an engineering marvel, drastically reduced travel time for ships by bypassing the lengthy journey around the Peloponnese.

In addition to its historical significance, Corinthia is known for its picturesque villages, olive groves, and vineyards that dot the landscape. The fertile plains of the region are perfect for agriculture, especially the cultivation of olives, which are used for producing high-quality olive oil. The coastal areas, like the town of Loutraki, are also popular for their relaxing resorts, hot springs, and opportunities for water sports.

Corinthia is a region that perfectly balances the ancient and modern worlds, offering visitors a unique opportunity to explore ancient ruins, relax by the sea, and experience authentic Greek culture and cuisine. Whether you're drawn to its historical treasures or natural beauty, Corinthia offers something for every type of traveller.

What we love

- With spacious family rooms and a dedicated kids' room, Hermea is ideal for families. It ensures that both adults and children have their own space to enjoy the villa's amenities, while still offering a close-knit and safe environment.
- The indoor heated pool, combined with its spa features, ensures that Hermea is a perfect destination for all seasons, providing guests with a relaxing space regardless of the weather outside.

What you should know...

- Although Hermea is just 170 kilometers from Athens, the villa is situated in a more secluded area. This could make it less convenient for travelers who prefer easy access to city attractions, shops, or restaurants.
