

Villa Artemis

Region: Santorini Sleeps: 6

Overview

Villa Artemis is located amid the traditional community of Megalochori, a place proud to maintain its traditions without being overly influenced by the faster pace of modern life. Upon arriving in Megalochori, you'll find narrow streets, marble churches with traditional architectural bells and endless vineyards to take you to another period and time.

Villa Artemis is a beautifully restored ecological building spanning 120 square meters, perfect for 2 to 6 guests. It features two separate bedrooms, each with its own private bathroom. The spacious living room includes roomy sofa beds, accommodating two additional guests comfortably. As well as a fully equipped kitchen, a patio with a heated Jacuzzi and private terrace. Ideal for families, couples, or groups of friends, the villa ensures a serene and cosy stay. Earth tones, luxurious touches, and minimalist décor create a warm, inviting atmosphere for guests.

Villa Artemis sits firmly in the region's traditional 1900s feel despite its renovation in 2013 by architects MPLUSM and civil engineer Tziotis Georgios. It subtly utilises traditional Thira architecture to a minimal, refining what is already there while added smartness, chic design and a luxurious style.

Villa Artemis' hospitality combines the unique beauty of the island with the unforgettable experience of a stay in a truly beautiful luxury holiday home.
