

Villa Agalia

Region: Parga Sleeps: 6

Overview

Villa Agalia is a contemporary coastal retreat that merges architectural distinction with traditional Greek design. Composed of two independent buildings, the villa's layout is thoughtfully structured to wrap around a series of terraces, each shaded by timber-beamed pergolas. This design invites a harmonious balance between indoor comfort and outdoor leisure, ideal for a tranquil summer escape.

The main building showcases an open-plan layout that takes full advantage of its setting, featuring expansive sliding glass doors that invite in natural light and uninterrupted views. The kitchen area, finished with clean lines and traditional materials, includes a central dining island that encourages sociable mealtimes. Adjacent to this is a lounge space styled with understated bohemian touches and direct access to the terrace, seamlessly linking indoor living with the sun-drenched exterior and sea views.

The second building, accessed externally, offers additional accommodation that complements the main house. Two double bedrooms open directly onto the poolside area, each styled with soft neutral tones, ensuite shower rooms, and immediate access to the garden and terraces. A third bedroom, located on the lower level with its own entrance, features twin beds and an ensuite shower room, making it particularly suitable for younger guests seeking independence within the estate.

Villa Agalia excels in its outdoor offering. Multiple terraces overlook the sea, each curated with comfortable furnishings and ample space for both relaxation and social gatherings. The private pool is surrounded by loungers and shaded areas, while a stone-built deck by the waterfront provides direct access to the crystalline waters below.

Location & Local Information

Villa Agalia is nestled in the serene town of Sparto, on the picturesque west coast of Ambracian Bay. This tranquil village offers a perfect escape, surrounded by nature and with direct access to the crystal-clear waters of the bay. The area is renowned for its calm beauty and rich history, once a thriving fishing village, now a peaceful retreat.

Nearby, you'll find local tavernas serving fresh seafood and traditional Greek dishes, while charming shops offer locally made goods and artisan crafts. For those seeking adventure, the region is ideal for hiking, with winding trails that lead to breathtaking viewpoints of the bay and surrounding countryside. The historical town of Preveza, with its ancient ruins and vibrant culture, is just a short drive away, offering a mix of history, shopping, and lively cafés. Whether you're exploring the coastline or enjoying the peaceful village atmosphere, Sparto offers a captivating blend of relaxation and discovery.

What we love

- Direct access to the crystal-clear waters of Ambracian Bay, perfect for swimming, sunbathing, and water activities right from your doorstep.
- The peaceful, secluded village of Sparto offers a blend of nature, history, and local culture, with charming tavernas and artisan shops just a short stroll away.
- Stunning outdoor terraces with panoramic sea views, ideal for sunset dining or relaxing by the private pool with friends and family.

What you should know...

- The villa is built on a hillside, which means there are a few steps and an external staircase to access the main living area and pool.
- The nearest beach is a seafront stone deck, providing direct access to the water, but it may not have the same amenities as a traditional beach.
- If you are traveling in a larger group check out Villa Kefi, Villa Thalori & Villa Kinonia all on the same complex.
