Location & Local Information

The sports and entertainment facilities at Colina Village ensure that guests have plenty of activities to choose from during their stay. Soothing swimming awaits guests in the outdoor saltwater pools. Parasols on the terrace are also available. Leisure activities and facilities at the accommodation include tennis, Nordic walking and hiking or, for a fee, cycling/mountain biking. An entertainment programme for adults and children ensures that guests have plenty to see and do during their stay.

Situated just under an hour from Faro Airport, and 1.5km from the beach, Carvoeiro is a picturesque fishing village inhabited as early as the Ancient Roman Empire when tuna fishing was the sole provider for the economy. This beach hamlet offered protection to the fisherman of the time and has since developed into a quaint white-washed village complete with all the modern amenities one could ask for.

Ocean erosion has been the natural designer of water spouts and grottoes, perfect vantage points for marine life spotting including dolphins in their pods of twelve. Guests can go snorkelling or diving, or for those who prefer to stay on dry land, they can play Golf in Vale de Milho, a par-3 course designed by Dave Thomas who himself took part in the Ryder Cup not once but four times. Surrounded by beaches and with a population of less than 3000 people, Carvoeiro has managed to retain its authentic Portuguese charm.

Praia de Carvoeiro is the main beach just behind the town and is sheltered by dominating cliff faces on either side, local bars and cafes just a few steps away in case you need a cool beverage. Walking tours will provide perfect vistas of the ocean and will most likely lead you to Fort of Senhora da Conceição dating back to the 17th century. Be it seaside fun, cultural discovery or delectable indulgence, Carvoeiro is the ideal destination for a Portuguese getaway and perfect base for a journey through the Algarve region.
