Overview

Within the heart of the picturesque village of Blauzac, Le Chambarru rises behind stone walls as a refined 16th-century manor house, its beautiful façade a quiet witness to centuries of southern French charm. Lovingly restored by its French and Belgian owners, this former silk farm balances noble character with stylish comfort, offering a wonderful escape just moments from local village life.

Inside, the atmosphere is generous and warmly inviting. Original beams, a grand fireplace and open-plan living spaces reflect its storied past, while high-quality furnishings and thoughtful details make each room feel effortlessly welcoming. A fully equipped kitchen opens directly to the shaded terrace, where long lunches stretch into lazy afternoons and expansive views. Upstairs, a large landing opens to a character library with billiard table, while three well-appointed bedrooms and two bathrooms accommodate up to 6 guests with ease.

Outside, the garden feels like a world of its own featuring mature olive trees, lawn and a gleaming 10-metre pool framed by a stone sun terrace. Whether relaxing on a lounger or gazing out towards Uzès and distant Mont Ventoux on the horizon, guests are treated to a setting that feels classic and timeless.

Just a very short stroll from the front door brings you to Blauzac's café-bar, bakery, grocer and restaurant - everything you need within arm's reach. What you should know...

- The charming owners live in private and independent accommodation across the courtyard (rest assured they do not overlook the garden, pool or dining terrace).
- The photos show a large pine tree beside the swimming pool, however this has recently been removed due to pine needles in the pool (and a pool cover has been added!). Updated photos will follow soon.
