Location & Local Information

La Maison des Hirondelles is located in the authentic village of Raissac-d'Aude, a charming base for exploring one of southern France's most captivating regions within easy reach of vineyards, historic towns and the Mediterranean coast.

In Raissac-d'Aude itself, a small grocery shop makes it easy to pick up basic essentials, while nearby Canet (2km) offers a bakery, butcher, bar and a handful of local amenities including a pizzeria and pharmacy. Another short drive brings you to the small wine town of Lézignan-Corbières (12km), where supermarkets, restaurants and a lively Wednesday morning market create a welcoming local hub – this is the capital of the Corbières wine region.

Indeed, wine lovers and nature seekers alike will be enchanted by the surrounding Corbières vineyards and traditional wine villages. Don't miss a visit to the majestic Fontfroide Abbey (17km) where landscaped Italian gardens and onsite wine production add depth to this remarkable National Heritage site.

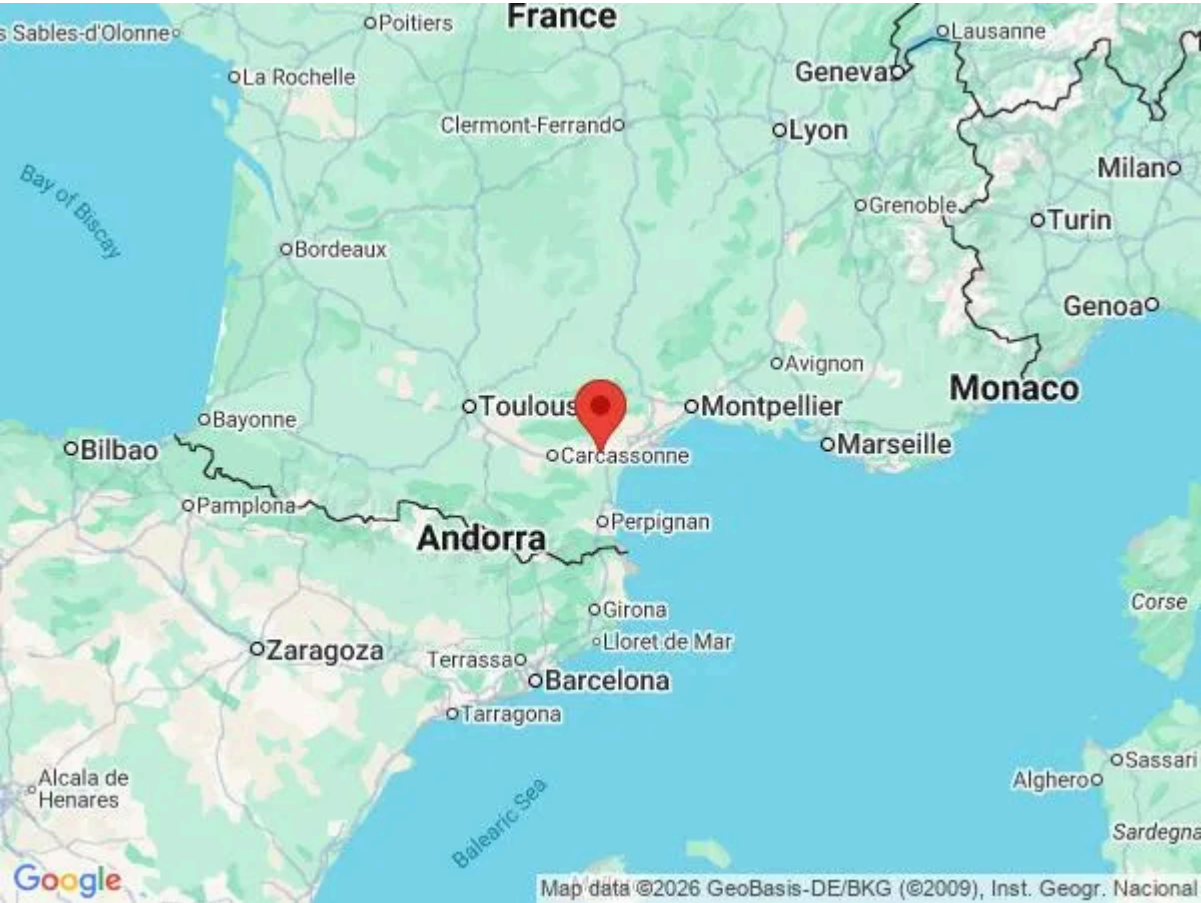

For coastal charm, Gruissan's stilted "Betty Blue" beach houses, salt marshes and seaside restaurants are a 30-minute drive from your doorstep, while the sandy stretches of Narbonne Plage beckon just 35km away.

Culture and history abound nearby - explore Narbonne's Roman past, vibrant markets, and museums around 20 minutes away by car, or head to Béziers (45km) for canal strolls, cathedral views and its renowned flower market on Fridays. The tranquil banks of the Canal du Midi offer delightful opportunities for walking, boating and cycle rides.

If you can find the time, a day trip to the medieval fortress city of Carcassonne (50km) is another must. Wander its cobbled lanes, dine in traditional restaurants or soak in one of its many cultural events at one of France's most visited destinations.
