Within 2.5km, you'll find yourself wandering along Saint-Raphaël's bustling boardwalk lined with stylish cafés and restaurants, or sinking your toes into the golden sands of Saint-Raphaël's pristine beaches. A large supermarket is conveniently located just 1.7km away, ensuring your holiday essentials are always within easy reach.

This corner of the Côte d'Azur is perfectly positioned for exploring the twin towns of Saint-Raphaël and Fréjus, where Provençal charm and Roman history meets coastal allure. Spend long summer days enjoying the beaches of Fréjus (4-5km), with their family-friendly shores and plentiful water sports, from paddleboarding and kayaking to jet-skiing and parasailing. Meanwhile, the quieter Plage d'Agay (10km) offers an idyllic escape, set in a beautiful horseshoe-shaped bay framed by dramatic red rocks.

For those who crave adventure, the striking Massif de l'Esterel awaits just a short drive away. This volcanic mountain range is criss-crossed with scenic hiking and biking trails, offering breathtaking views of the Mediterranean Sea and opportunities for rock climbing, canyoning, and even horseback riding. Whether you're chasing panoramic vistas or exploring hidden coves, the Esterel delivers a thrilling natural playground.

With Cannes just 45km away and Saint-Tropez just over an hour by car, traffic dependent (also look out for ferries), day trips to glamorous Riviera destinations couldn't be easier. Or set your sights inland, exploring the enchanting hilltop villages that stretch from Lorgues (47km) Bagnols-en-Forêt (21km). This lesser-known hinterland offers a taste of authentic Provence, with its olive groves, vineyards, shady village restaurants and traditional markets brimming with local flavours.
