

L'Ancienne Etable

Region: Dordogne Sleeps: 2

Overview

Surrounded by rolling fields and woodlands, L'Ancienne Étable is a masterclass in thoughtful restoration, where the humble charm of its agricultural past meets elegant, contemporary comfort. This former cowshed has been transformed with care and finesse into a beautifully appointed retreat, offering a romantic escape in the heart of the French countryside with uninterrupted views stretching out across the open landscape.

Inside, the open-plan layout is welcoming, blending farmhouse character with modern touches. Original cow-byres add a distinctive nod to the building's heritage, now reimagined with flair. The living and sleeping space flows seamlessly into a fully-equipped kitchen, complete with a central island, perfect for long, relaxed breakfasts or evening aperitifs. Every detail has been carefully considered, from the plush seating and queen-size double bed to the air-conditioning and sleek shower room, creating a space that feels effortlessly stylish and wonderfully comfortable.

Step outside and you'll find even more to savour. The garden opens directly onto fields, with armchairs perfectly placed for soaking up the sun or simply gazing at the horizon. A covered terrace houses a hot tub and music speaker, inviting indulgent afternoons and romantic evenings under the stars. Table tennis adds a playful touch, while al-fresco dining is easy with the barbecue.

The location offers the best of both countryside charm and proximity. Set on the Charente-Dordogne border, you're just over half an hour from Angoulême and Ribérac, and within easy reach of Cognac's famous vineyards. Closer still are the charming villages of Montmoreau and Villebois-Lavalette, where you'll find artisan bakeries, café bars and bustling weekly markets.

Whether you're looking to unwind in privacy, explore the charms of southwestern France or simply revel in design-led comfort, L'Ancienne Étable offers a setting where every moment is beautifully considered.

Location & Local Information

At the end of a no-through lane, L'Ancienne Étable offers lovely views of the rolling hills of the Charente countryside. Perfectly positioned near the Dordogne border, this rural setting invites guests to unwind and reconnect with nature, while remaining within easy reach of some of the region's most captivating towns and villages.

Just 12 minutes away by car, the charming village of Montmoreau offers all essential amenities, from a supermarket and boulangerie to relaxed café bars and restaurants. A short drive further brings you to Villebois-Lavalette, with its hilltop château and traditional covered market square.

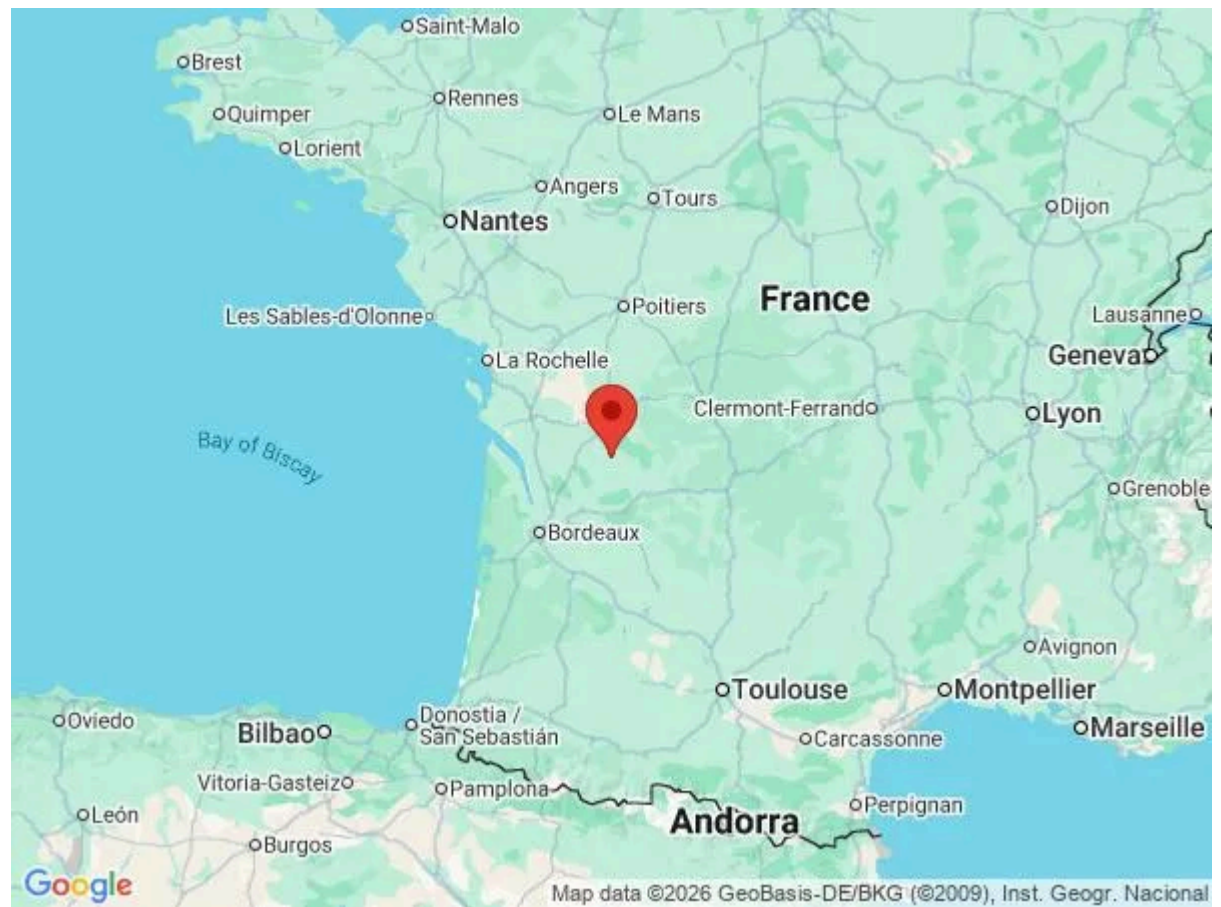

For a deeper taste of local life, head to Ribérac on a Friday morning, where one of the region's largest markets overflows with fresh produce, regional delicacies and vibrant local character. The nearby village of Verteillac also makes for a delightful day out, with a handful of shops and regular brocantes.

For riverside charm, Aubeterre-sur-Dronne, officially listed among the Plus Beaux Villages de France, is just over half an hour away. Its stunning monolithic church and leafy village square, lined with cafés and artisan boutiques, are perfect for a relaxed afternoon. Continue your explorations to Brantôme en Périgord, often called the "Venice of the Périgord", where riverside restaurants and ancient abbeys create an irresistible blend of culture and beauty.

City lovers will enjoy day trips to Angoulême, just over half an hour by car, famed for its comic strip heritage and atmospheric old town, or further afield to Cognac, where prestigious distilleries offer tastings and tours. Périgueux tempts with Roman ruins and a lively old quarter, while Saint-Émilion, a UNESCO World Heritage site, promises fine wine and timeless elegance under 90 minutes away.
