Overview

Life at Villa Verdant unfolds at a gentle pace, shaped by open countryside, mature trees and a farmhouse that has been thoughtfully arranged for relaxed group stays. Stepping inside, the ground floor reveals a series of interconnected spaces that feel sociable and easy to navigate, with thick walls and natural finishes giving the house a reassuring sense of solidity.

The living room sits at the heart of the home, furnished for comfort and conversation, whether gathering at the start of the day or settling in during the evening. From here, the open-plan kitchen is well equipped for cooking for a crowd, flowing naturally into the dining area where shared meals become a daily ritual. The layout encourages everyone to stay connected, even while preparing food or setting the table.

All four bedrooms are located on the ground floor, making the house particularly practical for families and mixed-age groups. The first bedroom features a king-size bed and a sofa bed, offering flexibility for parents with younger children. A bathroom with a bath sits nearby, ideal for slower evenings. The second bedroom includes a queen-size bed and a window seat that invites quiet moments with a book or a morning coffee. The third bedroom is arranged with two double beds, while the fourth offers three single beds, creating a space that suits children or teenagers sharing together. A second bathroom with a shower completes the interior layout.

Outside, the farmhouse opens onto a garden designed for long summer days. The private swimming pool sits at the centre, bordered by sun loungers and umbrellas for easy afternoons by the water. An alfresco dining area and dedicated barbecue space make outdoor meals effortless, while the surrounding garden offers room to wander and unwind. A play area adds to the appeal for families, allowing children to enjoy the outdoors while adults relax nearby. Villa Verdant is a home shaped around togetherness, space and time well spent.

Location & Local Information

Villa Verdant is located in Naxxar, one of Malta's oldest and most characterful villages, set slightly inland yet well connected to the rest of the island. The area is known for its traditional streets, honey-coloured stone buildings and slower pace of life, offering a sense of authenticity while remaining within easy reach of the coast.

At the heart of Naxxar lies its historic centre, where cafés, bakeries and local shops sit alongside centuries-old churches and palazzos. The village has deep historical roots, with its name believed to derive from early Christian settlers, and this heritage is still evident today in its architecture and community feel. Wandering through the streets reveals arched doorways, carved stone details and quiet squares where daily life continues much as it has for generations.

Despite its traditional atmosphere, Naxxar is well placed for exploring Malta. The island's northern beaches, including Mellieħa Bay and Golden Bay, are within comfortable driving distance and offer wide sandy shores and shallow waters. Nearby Mdina, the former capital, provides a memorable day out with its fortified walls, narrow lanes and panoramic views across the island. Valletta, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is also easily accessible and offers museums, waterfront dining and cultural events.

The surrounding countryside reflects Malta's agricultural past, with olive trees, terraced land and rural pathways shaping the landscape. Local markets and village shops make it easy to source fresh produce, encouraging relaxed meals back at the villa. Naxxar's position allows guests to experience a quieter, village-based stay while still enjoying everything Malta has to offer, from beaches and historic sites to family-friendly attractions across the island.
