Location & Local Information

Kalkan is a picturesque harbour town on Turkey's southwest Mediterranean coast, set between the Taurus Mountains and the turquoise waters of the Lycian Sea. Once a quiet fishing village, it has evolved into an elegant yet relaxed destination known for its whitewashed houses, bougainvillaea-draped balconies, and atmospheric old town streets. Despite its growth in popularity, Kalkan has retained a boutique feel, with low-rise buildings cascading down the hillside toward the sea and strict planning regulations preserving its charm.

The old town is the heart of Kalkan, a maze of narrow cobbled lanes filled with independent boutiques, artisan shops, and an impressive array of rooftop restaurants. Dining is a highlight here; many restaurants are family-run and serve freshly prepared Turkish meze, grilled seafood, and regional specialities under the stars. The small marina and harbour area provide a scenic focal point, where traditional gulets and day boats depart for leisurely cruises along the coast.

Kalkan is particularly celebrated for its beach clubs and access to some of Turkey's most beautiful beaches. While the town itself has a small pebble beach, the famous Kaputaş Beach, with its dramatic gorge setting and vivid blue waters, is just a short drive away. Patara Beach, one of the longest sandy beaches in the Mediterranean and part of a protected national park, offers a wild and unspoilt alternative. The surrounding region is rich in history, with ancient Lycian ruins, including Xanthos, Letoon, and Tlos, scattered throughout the landscape.

- The Palm Beach Club is located just below the villa, approximately a two-minute walk away, offering convenient access to waterfront dining, swimming and water sports.
- The centre of Kalkan can be reached via a scenic coastal path in around 10–12 minutes, combining a sense of seclusion with easy access to local amenities.
- The private Roof Terrace isperfect for sunset drinks and evening relaxation.

What you should know...

- Kömürlük is elevated and charming, however, like much of Kalkan, there may be hills/steps when walking to and from town or beach clubs.
- The swimming pool is unfenced so children should be supervised at all times
- For larger groups traveling together you can also book the sister villa Komurluk Sea located next door
