

Wildridge Lodge

Region: The South West Sleeps: 8

Overview

Set on the edge of a private lake in the Cotswolds, Wildridge Lodge offers a contemporary waterside escape with uninterrupted views and direct access to the outdoors. The setting immediately draws you in, with wide skies reflected on the water and a sense of space that feels distinctly removed from the everyday.

Inside, the lodge has a fresh, modern feel. Large windows allow natural light to flood the open plan living area, keeping the lake in sight throughout the day. The layout is designed for easy living, with comfortable spaces for cooking, dining and unwinding together. Clean lines and thoughtful finishes create a calm, welcoming atmosphere that suits both short breaks and longer stays.

The lakefront position makes it easy to spend time outside. Paddle boarding can be enjoyed just steps from your door, while the surrounding Cotswolds landscape invites long walks along scenic trails and around neighbouring lakes. After a day out, returning to your own stretch of shoreline feels wonderfully simple.

Ideal for couples, friends or families looking for a modern lakefront stay in the Cotswolds, Wildridge Lodge combines contemporary comfort with an engaging outdoor setting. It is a place to slow the pace, enjoy the water at your feet and make the most of this unique corner of the countryside.

Location & Local Information

Nestled on the peaceful lakeside of the Cotswold Water Park, Wildridge Lodge offers a serene escape in the heart of Gloucestershire's iconic countryside. Just 4 miles from the historic market town of Cirencester, this lakeside hideaway combines calm waterside living with easy access to quintessential Cotswold charm and character.

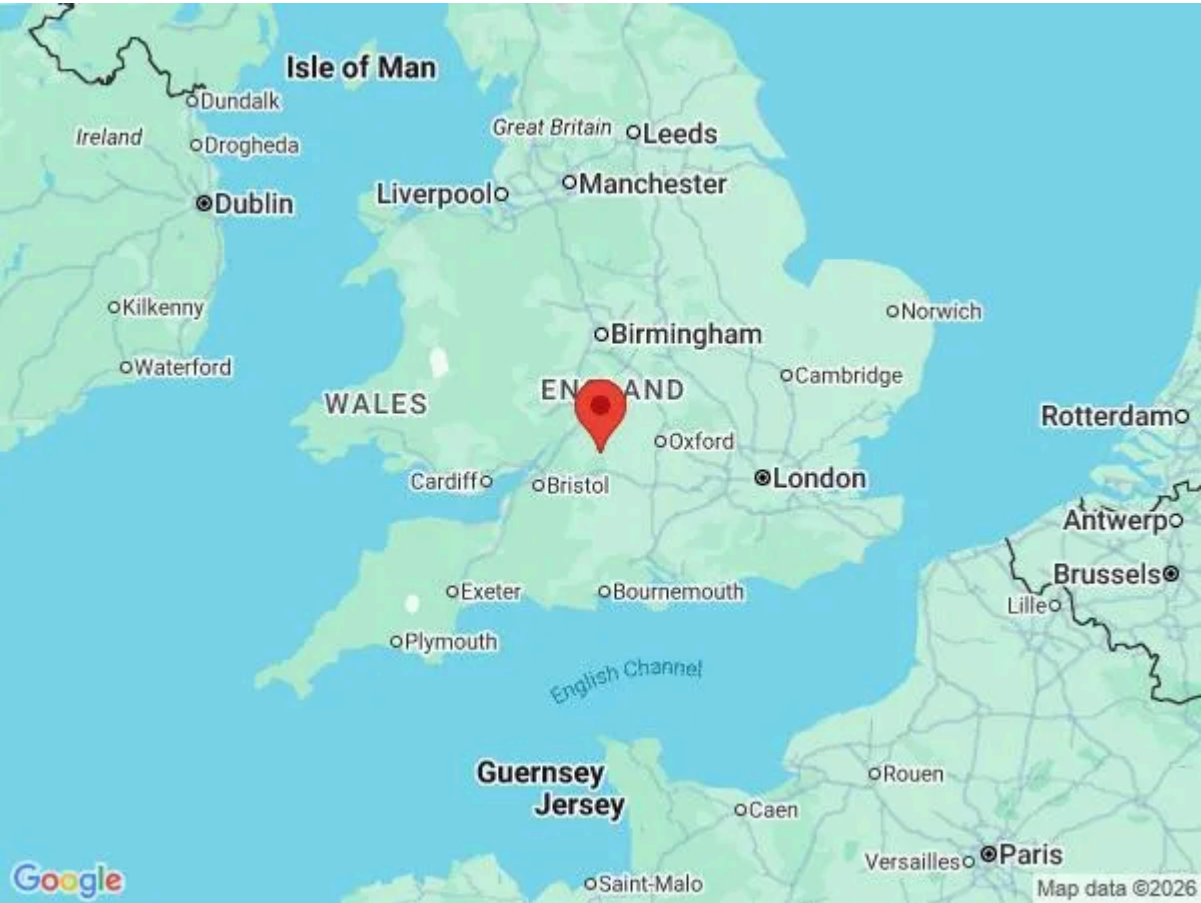

Step outside the lodge to gentle lakeside paths perfect for morning strolls with your dog, or head to nearby watersports hubs for paddleboarding, kayaking and cycling through scenic trails across the Water Park. The inviting sandy shores and picnic spaces of Cotswold Country Park & Beach are only a short drive away, offering swimming, boat hire and family-friendly open spaces.

For local flavour, you're spoilt for choice: traditional pubs such as The Old Boathouse and The Eliot Arms are within easy walking distance, while Cirencester boasts boutique shops, weekly markets, independent cafés and acclaimed restaurants. The town's Roman amphitheatre and historic parkland provide a fascinating backdrop for cultural exploration.

Whether you're here to unwind by the water, explore charming villages, or savour local Cotswold cuisine, Wildridge Lodge's prime location blends tranquillity and activity in equal measure.

What we love

- The lakefront setting offers uninterrupted water views, peaceful surroundings and direct access for paddle boarding straight from the decking.
- The communal living spaces are all on the first floor, making the most of the natural light and elevated lake views
- An excellent base for exploring Cotswolds hotspots, with scenic walks, charming villages and local attractions all within easy reach

What you should know...

- Swimming in the lake is not permitted. Guests wishing to swim can visit the nearby country park and beach. Paddle boarding and kayaking are allowed on the lake if you bring your own equipment.
- Children should be supervised at all times, as the open water surrounding the property presents a potential safety risk.
- There is parking available on the property for up to three cars.
- There are three ensuite bedrooms, as well as an additional WC.
- The communal living spaces are located on the first floor. A lift can be made available on request for guests with mobility issues.
