The spacious kitchen is well-equipped for preparing meals to enjoy indoors or outside, while six en-suite bedrooms - including one in a converted attic - provide privacy and flexibility for larger groups.

Outside, the landscaped garden centres around a private swimming pool and sunbathing area, offering space to unwind after a day by the coast. A garage and staff quarters are located in the basement, adding further convenience for longer stays.

With the dramatic cliffs of Boca do Inferno, Santa Marta Lighthouse and Marechal Carmona Park nearby, and a scenic cycle path connecting Cascais to Guincho Beach and Lisbon just in front of the villa, Villa Luminara combines an exceptional location with generous living space on the Portuguese Riviera.
