

Villa Olivara

Region: Provence-Alpes Sleeps: 12

Overview

Set within four hectares of Provençal landscapes, Villa Olivara offers a rare sense of stillness, where glorious views stretch across the Luberon. The approach reveals a recently renovated home designed for comfort in every season, with cool interiors in summer and a welcoming warmth when the fireplace is lit in the cooler months. Here, days unfold at an unhurried pace, shaped by sunlight, fresh air and the gentle rhythm of nature.

Inside, generous volumes and light-filled spaces create an effortless flow between kitchen and living area, where floor to ceiling windows frame the surrounding scenery. Contemporary styling is balanced by the presence of a historic stone fireplace, adding character and depth. Six thoughtfully arranged bedrooms provide flexibility for families or groups, each with air conditioning, while high speed internet ensures seamless connectivity throughout the house.

Outdoor living is at the heart of the experience. A shaded terrace looks out towards the Grand Luberon, perfect for long summer lunches, while a second terrace sits quietly beside olive trees and pine forest. The expansive pool area, set around 40m from the house, invites long afternoons by the water, with a heated pool, stylish sun terrace and a pergola lounge for relaxed evenings. Leisure comes naturally here, with pétanque, table tennis, badminton, table football and swings, alongside walking trails that begin directly from the grounds.

Positioned within the Parc du Luberon, the villa enjoys a privileged location surrounded by protected landscapes. Around 5km away, Saint Martin de Castillon offers an authentic glimpse of Provençal village life, while Céreste-en-Luberon provides local shops and a lively weekly market. Further afield, Apt, Viens and the ochre hills of the Colorado Provençal reveal the rich character of the region.

For those seeking space, privacy and a deep connection to Provence, Villa Olivara offers a setting where each day feels quietly extraordinary.

Location & Local Information

Set within the unspoilt heart of the Luberon, Villa Olivara offers a sense of seclusion, surrounded by over four hectares of sweeping countryside and uninterrupted panoramic views. With occasional passing deer, wild boar or hare, this is a place where nature takes centre stage. From the doorstep, a network of hiking trails invites you to explore the varied landscapes of the Parc du Luberon.

The estate is located in a rural hamlet and the house itself enjoys a private setting with no immediate neighbours. Just 5km away, Saint-Martin-de-Castillon is a quintessential Luberon village, cherished for its rural authenticity and breathtaking valley vistas. Its sleepy charm and traditional character make it a delightful spot to wander and soak up the atmosphere of Provençal village life. This seems far away from the more touristy Luberon villages to the west.

Céreste-en-Luberon (8km) offers everyday conveniences including a boulangerie, butcher, pharmacy and small supermarket, alongside a vibrant Thursday morning market. With origins dating back to the 12th century, its medieval lanes, fountains and ancient ramparts provide a captivating glimpse into the past.

Exploring slightly further afield, the perched village of Viens (12.5km) enchants with its timeless appeal, surrounded by rugged scenery, vineyards, forests and summer lavender fields. During the peak season, the wider region celebrates this iconic bloom with festivals in Sault (45km) and Valensole (50km), offering a colourful and sensory experience.

The historic town of Apt (15km) is a lively hub famed for its renowned Saturday morning market, the largest in the Luberon. Its cobbled streets are lined with shops and inviting patisseries showcasing the region's rich culinary heritage. nearby, the Colorado Provençal (21km) reveals striking ochre landscapes and interesting walking trails. For a change of pace, Forcalquier (31km) to the east charms visitors with its medieval character, panoramic citadel views and bustling Monday market.
