Location & Local Information

Set in the hills above the Guadalhorce Valley, Villa Alora Lux enjoys an elevated position with wide-reaching views across the surrounding countryside and towards the historic town of Álora. This part of Andalusia is known for its dramatic landscapes, where rolling hills, olive groves and distant mountain ranges create a striking backdrop that changes throughout the day. From the villa, guests can take in both sunrise and sunset, as well as the illuminated castle of Álora in the evening.

Despite its sense of seclusion, the villa is well placed for exploring the region. Álora (just a 10-minute drive away) offers a glimpse into traditional Andalusian life, with its historic centre, local markets, tapas bars and regular cultural events. Within a short drive, guests can visit the famous Caminito del Rey, while Málaga and the beaches of the Costa del Sol are also easily accessible for day trips. For those looking to explore further, the surrounding area includes wine regions, walking routes and a variety of natural landscapes, all within comfortable reach. The airport is also only a 30-40-minute drive away, which really makes the difference!

The owner personally recommends taking the time to visit the lakes at El Chorro and the Guadalhorce Reservoirs, not only for the scenery but for the atmosphere. It's a beautiful place to spend a slower day swimming, walking, kayaking, or simply lunching with a view. It feels wonderfully peaceful, especially if you go earlier in the day. For guests who love the outdoors, this whole area is also ideal for walkers, cyclists, and nature lovers, with beautiful routes and open landscapes all around.
