Maison de Robion

Region: Provence-Alpes Sleeps: 10

Overview

Surrounded by olive and fruit trees, and just a short walk from a charming village, Maison de Robion captures the easy rhythm of life in Provence. This relaxed abode brings together three independent dwellings, giving families and groups the pleasure of sharing their holiday while preserving plenty of personal space. Days unfold outdoors, from breakfast beneath the pergola to pétanque as the evening light settles over the garden.

The main house forms the convivial heart of the property, with a traditional living room and well equipped kitchen overlooking the garden. Three air conditioned double bedrooms offer restful spaces for unwinding, while the separate annexe has its own living area, kitchenette, king-size bed and private terrace. Finally, a charming yet simple independent chalet provides another double bed, little kitchenette, outdoor shower facilities and a shaded wooden terrace. Sleeping up to 10 guests, this arrangement makes Maison de Robion particularly well suited to multigenerational families or friends travelling together.

Outside, the enclosed garden is designed for long summer days. The heated 13m swimming pool awaits, whilst sun loungers provide space to stretch out in the Provençal sunshine. A pool house with dining area, plancha and fridge encourages leisurely lunches, and shaded pergolas offer welcome respite during the warmest hours. Splash in the water, sip rosé overlooking the garden and challenge each other to pétanque or ping pong.

The house sits in a residential area just 600m from the centre of Robion, a characterful village at the foot of the Luberon. Pick up fresh bread from the bakery, browse local produce at the weekly market or settle beneath the plane trees for a café stop. Coustellet and Cavaillon provide further shops and amenities, while celebrated villages including Oppède le Vieux, Ménerbes, Gordes, Bonnieux and Roussillon are within easy driving distance.

For guests seeking space, independence and the pleasures of outdoor living, Maison de Robion offers an effortless base for discovering Provence together.

Location & Local Information

In the heart of Provence, Maison de Robion is located in a residential area a short walk from the centre of Robion (600m), a characterful Provençal village at the foot of the Luberon. Soak up traditional village life in Robion, home to a bakery, café terrace beneath the plane trees and a charming weekly market showcasing all sorts of local produce such as honey, lavender, goats cheese, delicious fruit and vegetables as well as rosé from Luberon vineyards.

More everyday essentials are easily reached, with supermarkets, shops and a lovely Sunday morning market in Coustellet (4.3km), whilst the town of Cavaillon (6km) offers a wider choice of amenities and hypermarkets.

This is an exceptional location for discovering the classic landscapes and hilltop villages of the Luberon. Wander the timeless lanes of Ménerbes (9.5km) and admire the stone houses and sweeping views of Gordes (12km), both officially recognised among France's Plus Beaux Villages. Oppède le Vieux (7.5km) is another atmospheric destination, its historic ruins and old stone buildings rising dramatically above the countryside.

Only slightly further afield, explore the narrow streets and understated Provençal charm of Goult (15km), discover the ochre-hued scenery around Roussillon (22km) or linger over lunch and views in Bonnieux (20km). Driving between these villages is part of the pleasure, revealing vineyards, cherry orchards, olive groves and the rugged slopes of the Luberon.

Beyond the Luberon, L'Isle-sur-la-Sorgue (10km) is renowned for its canals, waterwheels and antique shops, as well as its popular Sunday morning brocante. Nearby Fontaine-de-Vaucluse (13km) occupies a spectacular setting beneath soaring limestone cliffs, beside the source of the River Sorgue.

For day trips, some of Provence's most celebrated destinations are within approximately 30 to 60 minutes by car. Avignon, Saint-Rémy-de-Provence and Aix-en-Provence open up possibilities for memorable days out, from historic architecture and galleries to bustling squares, café terraces and the unmistakable atmosphere of southern France.
