Set within 1.5 hectares of mature grounds, Mas Camarguais captures the distinctive spirit of southern France, with generous interiors, shady terraces and plenty of space for days spent outdoors. This impressive home welcomes up to 12 guests, making it particularly well suited to families or groups of friends looking to experience the landscapes and laid back rhythm of the Camargue.

Inside, space is abundant. Three comfortable sitting rooms with fireplaces provide relaxed settings for gathering together, while two fully equipped kitchens make catering wonderfully straightforward. Six air conditioned bedrooms each have their own private bathroom and WC, with quality 180 by 200 cm beds dressed in linen. Three bedrooms can also be arranged as twins, offering useful flexibility for different groups.

Life at Mas Camarguais naturally gravitates outdoors. Find a terrace for morning coffee, leisurely lunches and dinners beneath the open sky. At the heart of the grounds is a saltwater swimming pool, complemented by sun loungers. An outdoor kitchen with two planchas and a barbecue set the scene for convivial meals, while the pétanque court brings a classic taste of Provençal life to long summer afternoons. High speed Wi-Fi and an EV charging point add contemporary convenience.

The setting places guests within the remarkable Camargue, a region shaped by wetlands, open horizons and Mediterranean shores. The Étang de Vaccarès is just ten minutes away by car, whilst both Mediterranean beaches and the landscapes of Les Alpilles can be reached in around thirty to forty minutes. Arles is only 14km away, offering a rewarding contrast with its Roman heritage, atmospheric streets, restaurants and cultural life.

Location & Local Information

Set amid the extraordinary landscapes of the Camargue, Mas Camarguais offers a wonderful base for exploring the wetlands, lagoons and wide-open horizons that characterise this distinctive corner of southern France, only a short drive from the historic town of Arles.

The vast Étang de Vaccarès (7km) is just a few minutes away by car, placing guests close to the protected landscapes for which the Camargue is renowned. Here, waterways, reed beds and salt marshes create important habitats for an impressive variety of birdlife and other wildlife. Head south towards Salin-de-Giraud (24km) for views across the salt pans, or continue to the wild Mediterranean shoreline at Piemanson (35 km). The Camargue is internationally recognised for its exceptional wetlands and biodiversity.

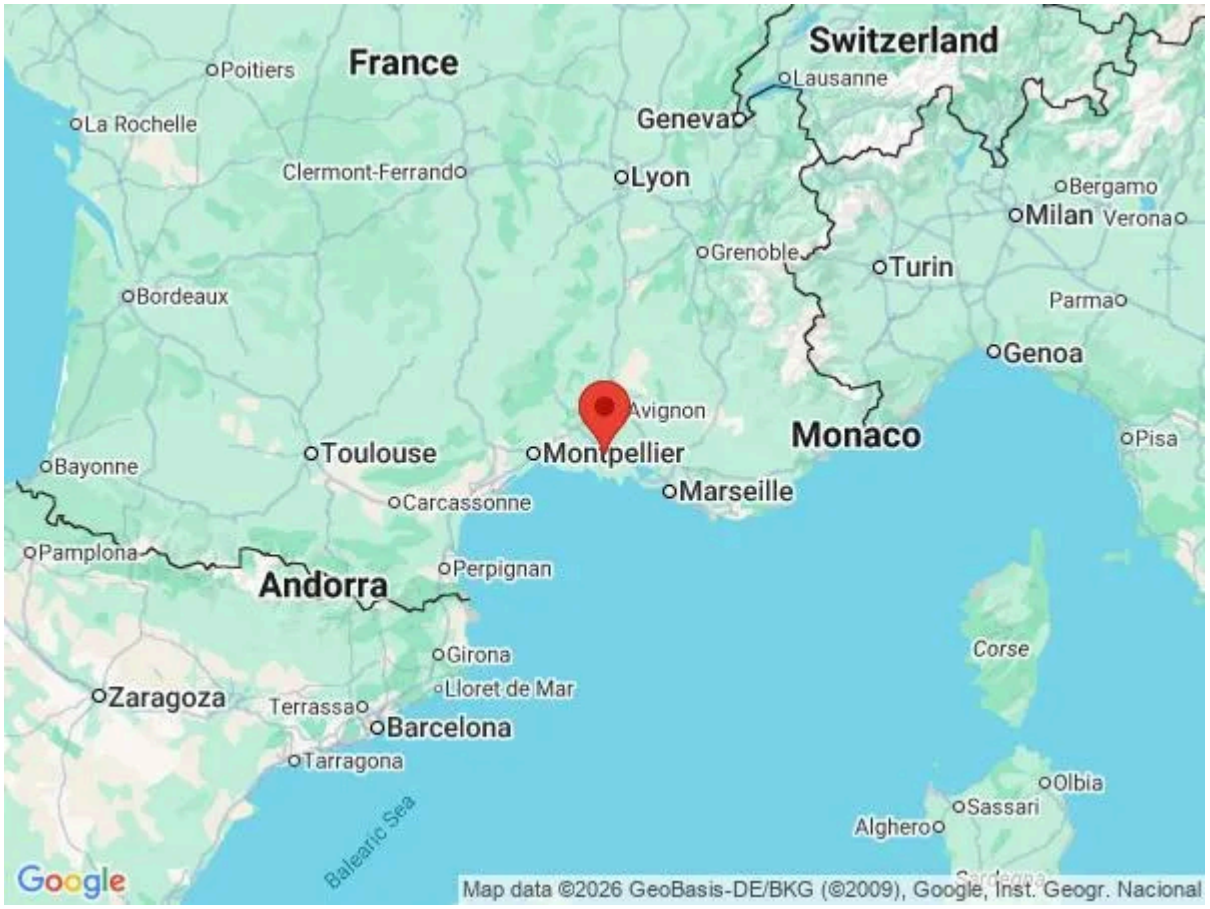

Also just over half an hour away, Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer (40km) is a characterful seaside town at the heart of the Camargue, known for its whitewashed buildings, sandy beaches and distinctive fortified church. Wander through its lively streets, enjoy seafood in the local restaurants or head to the waterfront for sweeping views across the Mediterranean and the wild coastline. En route, the Parc Ornithologique du Pont de Gau provides a rewarding way to discover the region's celebrated birdlife.

For a change of pace, historic Arles (14km) is within easy reach. Once the Roman city of Arelate, its magnificent heritage includes the Roman amphitheatre, ancient theatre, Baths of Constantine and atmospheric Alyscamps necropolis. Its outstanding Roman and Romanesque monuments are UNESCO World Heritage listed, while the town's streets and squares also reveal the artistic legacy of Vincent van Gogh. Arles is equally celebrated for photography, hosting the internationally renowned Rencontres d'Arles festival each summer, when exhibitions by established and emerging photographers transform heritage sites and galleries across the city.

Continuing further, the limestone hills of Les Alpilles can be reached in around half an hour. This beautiful Provençal landscape of olive groves, rocky ridges and historic villages makes a wonderful contrast to the Camargue's wetlands, with Les Baux-de-Provence (35km) among its most memorable destinations.
