Overview

Set directly on the white sands of Cable Beach, Casa Bahama is a newly renovated oceanfront retreat where Bahamian beauty is framed by elegant, light-filled interiors and uninterrupted views of turquoise water. Once owned by James Bond creator Ian Fleming, the property has been shaped by a fascinating sense of history, while a fresh contemporary finish has been introduced throughout. Eight bedrooms are arranged across two self-contained four-bedroom residences within the Beach House, each with its own private entrance, allowing generous space and privacy to be enjoyed by families, couples and groups travelling together. Five king bedrooms, two queen bedrooms and a further bedroom with a bunk bed are provided, with many spaces enhanced by sea views, soft coastal tones and natural textures. Bright living and dining areas have been designed to make the most of the spectacular setting, with the ocean brought into view through expansive windows and relaxed, understated furnishings.

Days at Casa Bahama are intended to be spent at an unhurried island pace where a secluded stretch of beach, swimming pool and inviting outdoor lounge areas can all be enjoyed. Mornings can be started beside the water, afternoons can be passed beneath swaying palms, and evenings can be shared in the peaceful surroundings of this exceptional beachfront setting. Beyond the estate, the celebrated restaurants, shopping and cultural attractions of Cable Beach are all within easy reach, allowing laid-back seclusion to be balanced with the best of the local area.
