Barefoot Estate

Region: Nassau Sleeps: 40

Overview

Set directly on the white sands of Nassau's sought-after Cable Beach, Barefoot Escape brings together Casa Bahama and The Conch House to create an exceptional oceanfront estate for larger families and groups. Across the two properties, 17 bedrooms are provided, with accommodation thoughtfully arranged into a collection of private residences and suites, allowing time together to be balanced with a welcome sense of independence. At Casa Bahama, eight bedrooms are set across two self-contained four-bedroom residences, where newly renovated interiors are filled with natural light, soft coastal tones and uninterrupted views across turquoise waters. A fascinating piece of Bahamian history is also woven into the setting, with the property having once been owned by James Bond creator Ian Fleming. At The Conch House, nine further bedrooms are arranged across five private accommodations, each styled with contemporary island-inspired interiors and spaces designed for relaxed Caribbean living.

Throughout Barefoot Escape, the beauty of its beachfront position is placed firmly at the heart of the experience. Secluded stretches of sand and a peaceful sandy cove provide direct access to the clear Caribbean Sea, while a private swimming pool, oceanfront loungers, inviting outdoor living spaces and mature coconut palms create an idyllic setting for sun-filled days. Mornings can be spent beside the water, afternoons can unfold by the pool, and relaxed evenings can be shared against a backdrop of sweeping ocean views. Despite the estate's sense of privacy, the restaurants, shops and attractions of Cable Beach are all within easy reach, with the renowned Baha Mar Resort also close by. With generous accommodation, flexible living spaces and an extraordinary waterfront setting, effortless group escapes are beautifully accommodated at Barefoot Escape.

What you should know...

- Barefoot Escape is the name given to Casa Bahama (https://www.oliverstravels.com/caribbean/the-bahamas/nassau/casa-bahama/) and The Conch House (https://www.oliverstravels.com/caribbean/the-bahamas/nassau/the-conch-house/)when they are booked together, so accommodation is spread across two neighbouring properties rather than one single villa
- The bedrooms are arranged across several self-contained residences and private suites, making the estate particularly suited to groups who appreciate having their own space
- There is one swimming pool at the estate, complemented by direct access to the beach and Caribbean Sea
- The accommodation includes a mixture of bedroom configurations, including king and queen bedrooms, a bunk room and additional sofa-bed sleeping space, so room allocation is worth considering when planning your stay
